OPENING OF THE SPECIAL SESSION.

HOUSE IN CONTROL OF THE DEMOCRATS

Champ Clark of Missouri Elected as Speaker.

Insurgents Propose a Separate Working Organization.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The Sixty-second Congress, called by President Taft in extraordinary session to consider the reciprocity agreement with Canada, began its work today. The Republicans retain scant control of the Senate. The House passed into the hands of the Democrats for the first time in 16 years and Champ Clark of Missouri was elected Speaker, receiving 317 votes to 131 cast for James R. Mann of Illinois, the Republican nominee.

The insurgent Republicans of the House, in their votes for Speaker, indicated that they intend to maintain a separate working organization. Fifteen of them voted for Representative Cooper of Wisconsin, Representatives Norris of Nebraska and Madison of Kansas, however, temporarily deserted and voted with the regulars for Mr. Mann. Theron Akin the independent Democrat of New York, also voted for Cooper. Victor L. Berger of Wisconsin, the only Socialist in the House, declined to vote.

The interest of the opening day centered almost entirely in the House and the routine proceedings of the Senate were all but forgotten. The re-elected and new Senators were sworn in under the old regime and then a recess was ordered to await the organization of the House and the report of a committee appointed to wait upon the President.

The President's message on the Canadian reciprocity will be read tomorrow.

Speaker Clark, in assuming office in the House, made an address in which he elaborated the legislative program already outlined by the Democratic caucus.

The House galleries, as also those of the Senate, were crowded to overflowing early in the day.

William J. Bryan and Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio were interested spectators of the organization of the House and were greeted with cheer as they appeared on the floor.

NEW HANDS AT THE WHEEL.

Interest Centers in the Proceedings in the House.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The opening ceremonies in the House had an unusual interest. It was the first time in 16 years that the Democrats had taken up the conduct of affairs in the lower branch of the national legislature. New hands were at the wheel, while the helmsmen of former days were about to engage in the pastime of rocking the boat. The transition from a month ago was complete. New faces were everywhere to be seen. Democrats not only filled the side of the chamber allotted to them, but poured over into the erstwhile sacred precincts of the Republicans.

Members of the House began to arrive at the capitol this morning with the earliest of the spectators and the floor was crowded almost as soon as the galleries. Everybody appeared to be in the best of humor. The Democrats wore smiles which would not come off, while the Republican minority also smiled—a grim sort of smile which meant that they were going to try to even up for the trouble caused by the Democrats during the days of Republican supremacy.

The opening program in the House, always an interesting spectacle, was followed today with uncommon keenness. It included the calling of the House to order by Major Alexander McDowell, the veteran Republican clerk of the House, who is soon to be replaced; the calling of the roll, the election of the Speaker, his speech of acceptance, the swearing in of the members by state delegations, and the drawing for seats.

There are always a few privileged members, who are allowed to choose their seats in advance of the drawing. They include usually the oldest member of the House in point of service, General Bingham of Pennsylvania; the minority leader, and one or two others, as the house leaders may designate. When the drawing for seats begins the floor of the House is cleared, and the members retire to the cloakroom. Marbles numbered to correspond with the numbers assigned to members on the alphabetical roll are placed in a large box, and a page does the drawing. As each member's number is called he goes into the chamber and selects a seat on the Democratic or Republican side, as the case may be. Often the most obscure of the new members secure the choicest seats.

The weather for the opening of the new Congress was atrocious. A steady rain, driven before a cold east wind, made the day one of the most disagreeable of the winter.

Speaker Clark during the two hours before the convening of the House. Among them were Mr. Mann, minority leader, who called to congratulate the man who was scheduled to beat him for the Speakership, Governor Harmon of Ohio, William Jennings Bryan and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Bryan was closeted with Mr. Clark for 15 minutes. From the Speaker's rooms he went to the House lobby, where he shook hands with scores of friends who gathered about him. Exercising his privilege as a former member of the House, Mr. Bryan appeared in the chamber at 11:35 a. m. He was quickly recognized by the gallery crowds and a demonstration, which started with applause, soon was

DEMOCRATS NOW PUT TO THE TEST.

Measures by Which They Appeal to the People.

Champ Clark, the New Speaker, Outlines Party Policy.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—This day marked the opening of the trial of the Democratic party to demonstrate its worthiness to receive "the wider confidence" of the voters of the country. Asking his colleagues to keep that fact uppermost in their minds during the present session of Congress Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, in his speech today accepting the Speakership of the House, outlined the measures by which the Democratic party hopes to continue to enjoy the faith of the people.

election of United States Senators by popular vote, changes in the House rules to permit proper consideration of public measures, economy in the transactions of the country, the publication of campaign contributions, and the early admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood, were some of the things which Speaker Clark emphasized in the program to be undertaken by the majority party in the House. Speaker Clark said:

"Election to the high position of Speaker is an exceptional honor, for which you have my profoundest gratitude. To be a member of the House, to represent 200,000 American citizens in the more numerous branch of the greatest legislative body in the world, is an honor to which in the nature of things comparatively few men may attain.

"To be chosen by the representatives of 92,000,000 people to preside over their deliberations is a signal mark of your favor, for which the best return is to discharge the onerous and important duties of the station to which you have assigned me with such impartiality, constancy, industry, courtesy and good temper as to expedite the public business, thereby promoting the public weal.

"The pleasure of being elected Speaker is much enhanced by the perfect unanimity with which it is conferred by my party fellows and the universal good will with which it is accepted by our co-laborers of the minority. Coming into the Speakership under these fortunate circumstances, the hearty co-operation of all members of whatever political persuasion is hereby earnestly invoked in maintaining order and decorum and in placing upon the statute books laws for the good of the country and the whole country, working out promptly, patiently, courageously, wisely and patriotically those measures necessary for the betterment of governmental methods and for the amelioration of the conditions under which we live.

"My Democratic brethren, coupled with the joy of once more seeing a House a large majority of which is of my own political faith is a keen sense of our responsibility to our country and our kind. It is an old adage worthy of acceptation that where much is given much is required.

"After 16 years of exclusion from power in the House and 14 years of exclusion from power in every department of government, we are restored to power in the House of Representatives, and in that alone. We are this day put upon trial and the duty devolves upon us to demonstrate, not so much by fine phrases as by good works, that we are worthy of the confidence imposed in us by the voters of the land and that we are worthy of their wider confidence. We could not if we would, and we would not if we could, escape this severe test. We will not shirk our duty. We shrink not from the responsibility.

"That we will prove equal to the emergency in which we find ourselves placed through our own efforts and through our own desires, there can be no doubt, and the way to accomplish that is to fulfill with courage, intelligence and patriotism the promises made before the election in order to win the election. By discharging our duty thoroughly and well, subordinating personal desires to principle and personal ambition to an exalted love of country, we will not only receive the endorsement of the people but what is far better—we will deserve their endorsement. Chief among these promises were:

STREET RAILWAY CHARTER REPORTED

Change for Providence Road Gives Rights in Warren.

Mr. Sullivan Opposes Present Biennial Election Proposition.

(Special despatch to The News.)

PROVIDENCE, April 4.—The house had a very busy session today, passing a number of bills which while of minor importance helped clear the calendar for future work. The house also received a number of new bills, many of which were of material importance. These included an amendment to the Grand Trunk charter, intended to give it supreme rights over the New Haven road; an act was to buy horses for the mounted troops of the state militia, and an act to prevent public bodies from spending more money than they have available. This provides a fine for each individual member of these bodies.

The amendment to the charter of the Newport & Providence Street Railway finally came to light, being reported by the senate committee on corporations. It provides for the right of eminent domain in the town of Warren, the charter already providing for Bristol.

Mr. Sullivan of Newport appeared as the father of new divorce laws, and later as an opponent of the passage of the resolution submitting the biennial election proposition to the people. Mr. Sullivan in a strong speech said the passage of this act, with its constitutionality questioned, might delay submitting the matter to the people four years. It makes no provisions for biennial sessions of the General Assembly, and the state of Rhode Island wants no repetitions of the present session.

In the senate the charter of the Harrisville fire district was reported, and the annual report of the adjutant general was presented.

A petition was introduced for permission for the extension of the Ashaway & Westerly railway to Niantic, to accommodate the Bradford dye works, which are expected to add so much to that locality. Referred to the committee on corporations.

Senator Lawton of Tiverton introduced an amendment to the laws on savings banks, which provides that accountants who certify to banks' accounts shall be residents of this state, and that reports made to the bank examiner shall be confidential. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Two acts were presented, providing for a longer closed season on quail. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Senator Sanborn introduced an act which would prohibit life and fire insurance companies or their agents from granting rebates. Referred to the judiciary committee.

Lieutenant Governor Bliss called the attention of the members to the fact that this is the last day for the presentation of new business, except by unanimous consent.

A number of bills of minor importance were passed, and this budget included the act permitting fire and police departments of the various cities and towns where there are state armuries to use these for their annual balls.

In the house the committee on corporations reported the amendment to the charter of the Potowomut Land & Irrigating Company, under which the Providence Tribune has been doing business. The change brings the paper's name into legal form. Referred on the calendar.

Acts were reported amending the charters of three mutual fire insurance companies, and these were placed on the calendar.

Mr. Gardner of Portsmouth reported, for the committee on fisheries, substitute A of the act for the control of oyster grounds. The substitute cuts out the patrol boat, which proved such a bone of contention last week. Placed on the calendar.

From the committee on accounts and claims came, favorably reported, the claim of John Lahey of Bristol for $500 for the use of the water used in fighting the Soldiers' Home fire. Placed on the calendar.

Mr. Franklin, for the judiciary committee, reported a substitute milk bill, which was placed on the calendar.

The fourteenth annual report of the state registrar was received and referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Green of Providence introduced an act providing for an appropriation of $5,000 for the purchase of horses for the mounted troops of the Rhode Island National Guard. Referred to the committee on militia.

Mr. Davis of Woonsocket introduced an act providing for a permanent clerk for the executive department, to have charge of the records and bills for the governor. He to be appointed by the governor for three years, with the advice and consent of the senate, and to receive $3,000 per annum. Referred to the finance committee.

Mr. Eaton of Providence introduced an act amending the law on peddlers, providing that they shall be licensed by the state and have the right to peddle in all cities and towns. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Sullivan of Newport introduced an amendment to the divorce laws. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Mr. Richardson of Providence introduced an act which provides that when boards of aldermen, town councils or school boards fail to do their duty and confine themselves within the law the members shall be subject to a fine of $100 each. Referred to the committee on judiciary.

Acts for addition to the state highways in East Greenwich and to amend the hunters' license laws were introduced and referred.

An amendment to the Woonsocket city charter, to make it conform to the provisions of the police commission bill, was introduced.

Petitions for the passage of the tuberculin inspection bill and for the abolition of the property qualification were introduced by various members, as were amendments to several mercantile charters.

Mr. Davis of Woonsocket introduced an amendment to the charter of the

MANN MINORITY LEADER.

House Republicans Put Committee Places in His Hands.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, whose name was proposed by former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon, was unanimously made the candidate for Speaker and the floor leader of the minority at a caucus of the Republican members of the House in the Sixty-second Congress held here tonight. Insurgents were present and took part in the proceedings, although some of the Republican irregulars declined to participate in the proceedings.

After a long debate the caucus voted down a plan similar to the Democratic method of making committee appointments through a special committee, it placed in the hands of Mr. Mann authority to name the Republican members of the standing committees.

A substitute plan calling for the special committee was voted down by 49 to 33, but the Republicans present were left free to take what other action they desired in the House in supporting or opposing a rule providing for a committee on committees.

Chairman Underwood of the Democratic ways and means committee will, as a result of tonight's action by the Republicans, confer with Mr. Mann as to the filling of the Republican places on all of the committees.

Two members of the House have the unique distinction of having taken part in neither the Republican nor the Democratic caucus. One is A. Berger of Milwaukee, Socialist, and the other Theron Akin of New York, elected as an "Independent Democrat." The Democrats have decided to give to both of them committee assignments, irrespective of the two large parties in the House.

The caucus selected Mr. Currier of New Hampshire as permanent chairman and Mr. Kendal of Iowa, an insurgent, as secretary.

Mr. Dwight of New York was again nominated for Republican "whip" in the House, though he announced in the last Congress that he would not again be a candidate for the position.

The caucus endorsed all the elective officers who have served in the Republican House. None of these will be re-elected, however, except the chaplain, Rev. Henry N. Couden, who has been chosen at the caucus by the Democrats.

More than a dozen Insurgents were not at tonight's caucus. During the afternoon the Insurgents held a meeting, at which 46 were either present or accounted for. For more than four hours they discussed the party leadership and the method of filling committee assignments. While a majority of those present favored Mr. Mann as party leader and approved the plan of having a committee on committees to fill the Republican places, no definite action was taken on either of these proposals at this meeting.

Among the Insurgents who were absent from the caucus room tonight were Representatives Norris of Nebraska, Murdock of Kansas, Lenroot, Nelson and Cooper of Wisconsin, Madison and Hubbard of Iowa, Davis, Lindbergh and Anderson of Minnesota and Kent of California. A number of other Insurgents had not reached the city.

The caucus proceedings were harmonious on all points except the method of selecting the minority members of the standing committees of the House. Speaker Cannon was one of those who warmly advocated the selection of the minority committee members by the Republican floor leader. In a characteristic speech he reviewed his own eight years as Speaker, and pointed out the satisfactory results which he believed were obtained by placing upon one man the responsibility of selecting the members of the committees.

Mr. Madison of Kansas, who had been a prominent figure at the afternoon meeting of the Insurgents, vigorously supported the plan of having a committee on committees.

The debate over the committee matter lasted two hours and a half. There were many besides the Insurgents who were for a committee on committees.

STATUTE RE-VITALIZED.

Commodities Clause to Hepburn Act Upheld by Court.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The United States Supreme Court today, in a unanimous decree, gave a decision on the "commodities clause" of the Hepburn rate law, under which government officials tonight predict that the evils which it was sought to correct by legislation will now be remedied. It is also declared that the divorcing of railroad and coal business, the real aim of the government's proceeding from the first, will henceforth be possible.

The decision of the same court two years ago on the "commodities clause" was commonly interpreted at the time as making the provision only "an important group of words." Today's decree of the tribunal is regarded as revolutionizing the statute, this making the decision an important and far-reaching government victory.

Chief Justice White announced the conclusion reached by the court. The entire bench agreed with his statement although on the previous consideration of the case Justice Harlan dissented from the judgment of his associates.

The chief justice today took the position that the lower court erred in refusing to allow the government to amend its original petition. He referred to the refusal as "an absolute abuse of discretion." He said, however, that the abuse was "obviously occasioned by a misconception of the character of the action of this court and the scope of the mandate."

As a result of the decisions the lower court will now allow the government to amend its petition in the Lehigh Valley Railroad case. A different situation arises in regard to the Erie, the Central of New Jersey and the Pennsylvania. In those cases the government did not ask for leave to amend, considering the Lehigh Valley suit a test case.

The government next did ask the court to dismiss the Erie, Central and Pennsylvania cases without prejudice, but this was refused, and the circuit court dismissed the cases. This dismissal was today approved by the supreme Court. Ordinarily this would preclude the government bringing new suits against these railroads.

Government officials tonight expressed doubt as to whether further proceedings could be taken against the Erie, Central and Pennsylvania, but an investigation will be made with a view to renewing the action against them, if possible.

Decree authorizing Receiver to Sell all Assets and Real and Personal Property.

This cause came on to be heard on the petition filed on March 13th, 1911 by William R. Rose, Receiver, heretofore appointed in this cause, praying that a decree be entered authorizing him, and directing the Receiver to sell at public auction all the assets of the Independent Ice and Cold Storage Company, including all real estate and personal property and rights in the hands of the Receiver and the business as a going concern, under the name of the Independent Ice and Cold Storage Company.

The Receiver may, at his discretion, adjourn or postpone such sale, from time to time and without further notice or advertisement, may proceed with such sale at the time to which it may have been adjourned.

3. Such sale shall be made subject to the confirmation of this Court and to the terms and conditions of this decree. No bids shall be received at said sale unless the bidder shall, prior to the opening of the sale deposit with the Receiver subject to the further order of this Court, cash or a certified check, payable to the Receiver or his order on some National Bank in the City of Newport, to the amount of five thousand ($5,000.) dollars. Any such deposit made by an unsuccessful bidder shall be returned to him by the Receiver at the close of the sale. Such deposits made by the successful bidder shall be retained by the Receiver, subject to the further order of this Court, and if the said sale shall not be confirmed such deposit shall be returned to the depositor. If upon and after confirmation of the sale by this Court the purchaser shall fail to pay the balance of the purchase price or in any respect fail to comply with the terms and conditions of the sale, or with any order of the Court relative thereto, such deposit, unless the Court shall otherwise order, shall be forfeited by the depositor and shall be retained by the Receiver as part payment of the purchase price upon final settlement with such purchaser. Any purchaser who may be entitled to receive any payment under any order of distribution which may be made in this cause shall be entitled to have the amounts of such payments applied on account of the purchase price in such manner as this Court may determine upon confirmation of the report any and all bids and authorizes the Receiver to make such other terms and conditions of said sale not inconsistent herewith as in his discretion may seem wise and prudent.

4. Said property shall be sold subject to any and all liens for unpaid taxes or assessments of every nature and subject to all other charges, liens and incumbrances thereon, if any, which may be outstanding at the time when the transfer of title is effected, whether the same existed at the time when the Receiver was appointed in this cause or have arisen thereafter. But no sale of said property shall be made for a sum less than forty thousand ($10,000.) dollars, including taxes, liens, mortgages and other charges thereon. And the said purchaser shall assume and covenant and agree to pay the same and to indemnify and save harmless the Receiver, and the said property shall be conveyed therewith, and the deed of conveyance shall establish such incumbrances, liens and charges and provide for the protection of the Receiver in such manner as may and to such extent and for such time as the Court may hereafter determine.

5. The Receiver shall continue in the possession and control and management of said property and shall continue the business of the Independent Ice and Cold Storage Company, until the further order of this Court, relative thereto, and may use the cash in his hands except from the sale as aforesaid as well as any other money which may be received by him, and apply the same to the expense of the business and management and protection of the property and to the performance of its obligations whether already or hereafter incurred. The net proceeds of property and business shall be received and transferred as they stand on the date when transfer of title is effected and pending such transfer shall thereupon be made, forthwith any excess of money received by the Receiver after the day of said sale over and above the money expended by him after that date as aforesaid shall be paid over to the purchaser, and any excess of such expenditures over such receipts shall be repaid to the Receiver by the purchaser.

6. The Court expressly reserves the right to make any further order and direction in the premises as may seem just and proper.

BOTH OFF THEIR FORM.

Algonkins Especially Poor in Shooting and Play Listlessly.

St. Joseph's Has No Difficulty in Taking First Game in the Extra Series.

The first game in the series between the St. Joseph's and Algonkins basket ball teams was played in the Hazard Memorial hall Monday evening before a fair-sized gathering of fans, St. Joseph's winning by the score of 55-29. It certainly was a joke as a basket ball game, as both teams were far from their usual style of play, especially the Algonkins, who fumbled passes and seemed always bunched together, while their shooting was bad. They had all kinds of shots, but it did them no good, for whether it was under the basket or from a long shot the result was the same—they could not put it in. They had 159 field tries, while the St. Joseph's had only 70; this gives some idea who was doing the shooting.

In the first half St. Joseph's had little trouble in coming out at the long end, the score being 31-8. This period was good compared to what was coming in the second. In the first the St. Joseph's team showed flashes of speed now and then, and once, when Kenny and Williams managed to work the ball from their own basket to their opponents, where Kenny dropped in it, the play was a good display of passing and dodging and brought out a round of applause from the spectators. Williams and Underwood both made phenomenal shots.

In the second half the St. Joseph's let up and were contented in the passing the ball around. Again they came out ahead, 24-21. Time after time an Algonkin man would be under the basket alone, but try as he would the ball would roll around and out.

The first half opened with the Algonkins on the offensive, with the result that a foul was called on Dawley for holding, on which Kenny failed to make good. On the next jump-off Kenny started the scoring with a basket. From then on the St. Joseph's backs began to pile them in, and in the last 10 minutes the forwards were the ones who did the trick. Kenny was high man in this half, with six baskets, Williams and Meehan coming next with three each. For the Algonkins, Dawley and Underwood each scored two, making their total 8.

In the second period about every man on both teams had a couple of shots at the basket, until Williams broke the ice and dropped one in, and was followed by one by Connerton. In this half the Algonkins made 21 points, Hickey scoring four baskets, while Kirwin made the most for St. Joseph's, five. The crowd certainly had the laugh on one Algonkin player, who was under the basket a number of times, shooting with the St. Joseph's players looking on and could not drop it in. After a while he managed to cage one and the crowd gave him the "glad hand" for his attempts. Kyle and Underwood at times displayed good passing, but in the second half they played a listless game. The sides:

St. Joseph's	Algonkin
Williams, r. f.	l. b., Kyle
Kirwin, l. f.	r. b., Underwood
Connerton, c.	c., Maher
Meehan, r. f.	l. f., Hickey
Kenny, l. b.	r. f., Dawley

Score 55-29. Baskets—Kirwin 7, Williams 6, Kenny 6, Connerton 4, Meehan 4, Hickey 4, Dawley 5, Underwood 2, Kyle 2, Maher. From fouls—Meehan, Kyle. Missed foul tries—Hickey 2, Dawley 2, Underwood, Kyle, Kenny. Missed field tries—Algonkins 150, St. Joseph's 70. Referee—McManus and Harvey. Scorer—Scully. Timer—O'Connell. Time—20-minutes halves.

The St. Joseph's team will go to Fall River this evening, where it will play the Favorites at the Boys' Club. A large crowd of supporters will go with the team.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mr. William W. Anthony has had a nest of fishhawks on his farm for 25 years, and for several years there has been one in the belfry of the Christian Church. Those on Mr. Anthony's farm arrived Saturday, March 25, which is several weeks earlier than usual, the middle of April being the customary date of arrival and the day of the week, Sunday, until the last two years. They keep the same nest every year and either repair it or build it larger. If it happens to be blown down a new one is built very near it. There is so much material in their nest, sticks and straws, that when it has fallen the material composing it has filled a two-horse lumber wagon. They make no fuss when Mr. Anthony or his family go near the nest, but fly and screech if a stranger approaches.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Speers of Newport, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Langley of Waterbury, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. H. Frank Anthony were guests Monday of Mrs. Abner P. Lawton.

The report of books loaned from the Portsmouth Public Library for the month of March is as follows: History, 6; biography, 2; geography and travel, 15; poetry and drama, 7; literature and language, 12; fiction, 337; miscellaneous, 8; total, 438.

The improvements and repairs being made to the cottage at "Linden Farm," belonging to Mrs. William H. Meyer, are nearly completed.

Sandy Point avenue is being covered with fine gravel, where the frost has caused bad ruts.

The new oil plant at the Bradford coaling station will probably be ready for use in a few days.

Mrs. T. J. Beisel, formerly Miss Sarah Albro of this town, is having a cottage built on County street, Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. C. Taylor are expected here this week, to inspect their "Glen Farm" property.

Joseph Marshall, one of the "Oakland Farm" teamsters, while at the shop recently had the wheel of his wagon cramped by the horses, throwing him against the wheel and partially under the wagon causing sufficient injury to his back to confine him to bed and to have the care of a physician.

Vessels to the number of 170 passed through the Stone Bridge draw in the month of March: Steamers, 116; towboats, 1; sailing vessels, 5; sailboats, 48; barges, 1.

Mr. Frank Mullin of Boston has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson.

Messrs. Abner P. and Theodore Lawton, who have been engaged at a hotel in Florida during the winter, have returned home.

A number of members of Portsmouth Grange were present at the forming of the new grange in Tiverton Saturday evening.

Mrs. Frederick Spooner, in spite of rumors to the contrary, is on the authority of her physician making good progress toward recovery and will not be scarred as feared.

Mrs. Minot A. Steele, who has been ill, is improving.

"OUT OF RUSSIA."

Thrilling Romance Dealing With Nihilist Plots, Written by Crittenden Marriott.

Those who are looking for a story of action and adventure, without a dull moment from the beginning to the end, will find such a tale in Crittenden Marriott's new book, "Out of Russia." The reader is kept continually on the qui vive, for no sooner is one danger avoided than another threatens. As the title indicates, it is a story of Russia. There are nihilist plots, in which agents of the brotherhood are concerned, and there are counter-plots hatched by the government. The inside workings of both brotherhood and bureaucracy are seen. To neither is human life sacred, and grave dangers are incurred, and even murder committed, by the agents of each. The Russian nobility, as well as the peasantry, appear in the story, while there are rich Americans, scientists and Western cattlemen. The scenes are laid in America and Russia, and the Baltic sea plays an important part in the development of the plot.

Marie Fitzhugh is an agent of the brotherhood sent to America on a delicate mission. A beautiful woman, she uses her charm and fascination to forward the work of her people in their struggle for liberty. She has brains as well as beauty and is the directing power in the task of securing a cargo of gold which has been sunk in the Baltic sea. It is a matter of life or death to her, for an agent of the brotherhood cannot fail in any duty without being punished for such failure. The reader must learn for himself whether or not the beautiful Russian succeeds in her desperate enterprise.

There are other Russians interested in this venture, Professor Shishkin, an authority on ocean phenomena, is compelled to aid the nihilists, against his will. The power of the brotherhood is shown in the case of the professor. However, he deceives them in one particular and is satisfied with that. Baron Demidroff, chief of the Russian secret police, also has his reasons for being interested in the attempt of the nihilists to discover the lost gold. The baron, although a clever and astute man, finds his match in a dashing, slangy American girl.

The Americans who have a part in this adventure are a Western rancher, who holds the key of the situation and is not in the least cowed by nihilist threat; a rich young New Yorker, who has come under the spell of Miss Fitzhugh's beauty; Florence Lee, a former New York actress, who has the most surprising adventures imaginable, and a newspaper reporter and his bride.

There are several illustrations, the frontispiece being in color, by Frank McKernan, and the book is published by the J. B. Lippincott Company.

AMERICANS GOING TO THE CORONATION.

Among the Americans who are planning to be in London at the time of the coronation are Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould, who will sail shortly after the wedding of their son, Jay Gould, to Miss Annie Douglass Graham, which will take place April 29; Mrs. William B. Lee, who has leased Mrs. George Keppel's house in Grosvenor street; Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills Reid, who are now spending their honeymoon in Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Sr., and Mrs. Vanderbilt's daughters, the Misses Margaret and Barbara Rutherford; Mrs. Elisha Dyer and her daughter, Miss Laura Swan; Dr. and Mrs. Preston Satterwhite Mr. and Mrs. Cortlandt Field Bishop; Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond—Mr. Hammond has been appointed special ambassador for the United States at the coronation, and has leased the house of the late Baroness Burdett-Coutts; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lydig, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly and Miss Ruth Twombly, Mrs. French-Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Lehr, Mr. and Mrs. James Laurens Van Alen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Livingston, Colonel John Jacob Astor and his son Vincent Astor; Major-General Frederick Dent Grant, who has been appointed military aide to Mr. Hammond, and Mrs. Grant; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George S. Scott, Mrs. C. Ledyard Blair and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Wilkes Cary. This is only a small portion of the well known people of society who are making their plans to go abroad for the coronation.

THE ROOSEVELT TRIP.

With the departure of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt from San Francisco for Reno, the reunion of the Roosevelt family at the home of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., came to an end and Mr. Roosevelt began the last half of the journey which he has repeatedly said is his final extended tour. Since leaving New York, March 8, Mr. Roosevelt has spoken in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California. Before he arrives in New York, April 16, he will also have spoken in Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wisconsin, and there will be but two States, Utah and Florida, which he has not visited since he left the White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel will not accompany Mr. Roosevelt. They will spend a day or two in the Yosemite valley and on their return will go directly to New York. Mr. Roosevelt will spend a day at Reno and the only announced subject on which he will speak is good citizenship. He will return to Sacramento and after a brief stay will go North, arriving in Portland, Or., Wednesday.

WHITE SAILS.

[Helen Hamilton Dudley in Smart Set.]

White sails unfurled . . .
Beyond the straight, dark sea
Lies world on world of dreaming quietude,
Wherein no angry murmur of unrest
Disturbs the gentle swirls. Alone I flee
The brazen combat of a crowded day,
And let my being sink into repose
So deep, so infinitely calm and sweet,
That all the flagrant thoughts of discontent
Fade from my mind, like pictures from a screen.

White sails unfurled . . .
When silently I slip
The moorings of the busy port of earth
I want it thus—the vaguely shining dark,
Soft as an orchid, warm with waiting songs,
Where through the purple curtain of the sky
Shall gleam the radiance of a lonely star,
Like some fair jewel from out God's casket spilled.

White sails unfurled . . .
So be it when my barque
Sails bravely out across the misty dusk.
No bitter murmurings of grief's unrest
To rend the gentle swirls; just peace
And ghostly silence like to this,
When through the swaying whisper of the waves
God's voice drifts down to me.

FANCIES.

Some day 'tis certain to come true.

ENGLAND LOSES REMBRANDT PAINTING.

The time limit of the English nation's option on Rembrandt's painting "The Mill" expired March 31. Only a small fund had been raised to purchase the picture, and therefore it will go to an American. The painting is owned by Lord Lansdowne. He was tendered $500,000 for it by an American whose identity is unknown, but offered to let it stay in England if the people would raise $475,000 for its purchase. This they failed to do.

A Woman's Back.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Newport Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.
Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault.
Backache is really kidney ache;
That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many Newport women know this.
Read what one has to say about it.

Mrs. A. P. Freeborn, 15 Caleb Earl St., Newport, R. I., says: "I was distressed almost constantly by backache and often it seemed as if my back were going to break. I felt worse in the morning when I arose and during the day I was all tired out. I could hardly get up or down stairs at times on account of the misery in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Hay's Drug Store, acted like magic and the use of two boxes did me a wonderful amount of good. The backache was relieved, my kidneys were strengthened and there was a noticeable improvement in my health. Nothing affords me greater pleasure than to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

LIVES EMBITTERED BY SKIN TROUBLES

Many estimable lives have been embittered by skin afflictions, due, in most cases, to neglect in infancy and childhood. Delicate skins readily become irritated and severe eruptions develop. Then treatment after treatment is tried and found wanting until life becomes a nightmare of torture and disfigurement, imposing a fearful handicap in the race for business or social advancement. Yet this physical and mental suffering might have been avoided or mitigated by a timely use of Cuticura soap and ointment.

AN UNNECESSARY LUXURY.

The proposition before the legislature for the establishment of a state police, to consist of a chief and nine other men at an aggregate salary of nearly $15,000, seems to have as its chief merit from the standpoint of the politicians the fact that it will provide 10 more offices to be distributed as favors through the governor by the Republican party. A state police may be of value in a commonwealth of larger size than this and there have been a few occasions when such a force would probably have been a distinct advantage in this state, but these cases have been comparatively rare and hardly sufficient to warrant the expenditure of the amount provided for in the proposed measure as salaries. The state has done very well thus far without such a police and there is no evidence that it cannot do quite as well in the future, and no apparent reason why it is particularly needed at this special time.

If a state police force is to be regarded in the light of a luxury, this is no time for its establishment and the burdening of the treasury for the payment of additional salaries. The state funds are still so low that the official at the head of the department is obliged to figure closely in many ways in order to pay all the bills as they come due; every cent is needed for necessary expenses and there is none to be wasted for purposes not absolutely essential to the welfare of the state. Perhaps some time the treasury will be full to overflowing and then a state police may seem more necessary than it does now. In the present condition of the finances and the absence of any special demand for such a force this bill for the creation of the new department may well be left in the committee files and allowed to die a natural death.

FOOD COMMISSION UNDER FIRE.

The Pure Food Commission of this state seems to have lost about all its friends. It was established several years ago in response to a demand by those interested in the cleanliness and purity of food products, and not much attention has been paid to it since that time. Now it is declared that it is not doing the work it ought to do, that the money of the state is wasted in maintaining it as at present constituted, and that it ought to be abolished and its duties distributed between the factory inspectors and the public health department. This denunciation is not confined to a single individual, but seems to have been aroused in several quarters at the same time. Even one of the members of the commission has been quoted as declaring that the body is of no value to the state under existing conditions and that it would be better for it to be abolished and its work placed in the care of other departments.

It is rather a peculiar condition of affairs for a member of a board which is supposed to be doing a valuable work to recommend that it be abolished on the ground of inefficiency, but this serves to call attention to the situation with more force than would otherwise be the case and to invest the emphasis of the demand for a change in the method of gaining the end which it was designed to accomplish through the Pure Food Commission. That its purpose is of value is shown by the fact that there is no desire or recommendation on the part of any who have denounced the commission that the work be abandoned, but only that it be taken out of the hands of the commission and that body be removed from existence. If it can be better done by some other boards than by this a change should certainly be made, but the work itself should not be permitted to lapse, for whether or not it has been done as it should be the fact remains that it is in the interest of the people and the public health and should be continued in the most effective way possible.

THE CHICAGO ELECTION.

Today Chicago is having one of the most exciting and important elections not only in its own history but in the history of any of our cities. Party lines are pretty thoroughly broken up, but political combines are intact and nearly all of them, of both parties, are on one side.

A Chicago despatch, which probably does not distort the truth much, says that behind Carter Harrison are lined up 7,000 saloons, the organizations of "Bath House John" and "Hinky Dink," the remnants of the old Harrison machine and the Lorimer variety of Republicans. Since Lorimer's political career came to be displayed before the public it will surprise no one that his following has deserted its regular party candidate, nominated by a vote more than twice as great as that given to any other candidate for the nomination, and is making common cause with the saloon element of the city and the piratical organizations of Democratic predatory politicians.

Still, Professor Merriam has a good many Democratic supporters, William J. Bryan of Nebraska and Roger Sullivan of Illinois were not many years ago carrying on internecine war, but the followers of both are against Harrison and are supporting Merriam; Sullivan is the Democratic boss of the state. Ex-Mayor Dunne, a Democrat, is also supporting Merriam. The ostensible Harrison issue is a matter of 15 cents per 1,000 feet on gas.

The contest is as nearly as can be attained a straight fight, regardless of party lines, between the friends of good government and the political crooks and purveyors of vice and men who are in politics for the money they can make. Betting at the close of the campaign was in favor of Harrison, but that might be because the corrupt elements are usually successful in city elections, or it might be that most of the betting element is on Harrison's side. The Merriam campaign fund is larger than that of Harrison, which is singular and looks significant. Public sentiment is thoroughly aroused. The primary election brought out more votes than any previous primary in the city's history, and the powers of light and of darkness are straining every nerve today to deliver or to capture the second largest city in the country.

THE COST OF WOOL.

Just as the Democrats are lining up against "Schedule K," reports come from Montana and Wyoming that wool growing does not pay as it is. As a tariff argument this works just as well one way as the other. We may reason that if wool growing is not profitable under the present rates of duty it will be forced to succumb to something else which will pay better, or we may reason that if it does not pay under the present amount of protection the duties must be raised, which cannot be accomplished with one branch of Congress Democratic.

After the enactment of the Wilson tariff, providing for free wool, there was a decrease in the number of sheep, if we may accept the figures of the Department of Agriculture. Of course the protectionists say that was the result of free wool, but according to the same official authority there were between six and seven million less sheep at the beginning of 1910 than there was seven years earlier. That decrease cannot be laid to Democrats or to free trade. According to these same official figures there was a decrease of a good deal more than 15,000,000 sheep in two years between 1903 and 1905. That cannot be laid even to tariff agitation. The fact is that, except in census years, we know little about the number of domestic animals. The estimates of the Department of Agriculture between census years jump around in the most fantastic way. The figures are apt to increase until the census enumerators come around and there is a real count, and then they drop rapidly.

It is said that the wages of herders have advanced, the value of land has gone up, it costs more for corn and alfalfa and for shearing. Well, grazing is one of the most primitive of industries; it comes after fishing and hunting and before agriculture, and it must recede before farming as hunting and fishing have gone. Besides, there is more money in mutton than in wool; the mutton sheep are taking the place of wool sheep and the lambs go to market instead of being raised for wool.

The various land purchase and laborers' acts and the promise of home rule in Ireland have not served to check materially the emigration from that country. Statistics show that 32,-[illegible] persons, of whom 18,912 were men, left the green isle in 1910, an increase of 3,553 over the previous year. Of the total number 56.9 per cent were between the ages of 15 and 35, with only 6.2 per cent over 55. In actual figures, 13,103 of the emigrants were between the ages of 20 and 25. One third of them had their passage money sent them from America. It appears that the whole number of emigrants who have left Irish ports since January 1, 1851, up to and including the end of 1910, was 4,157,445.

There is a possibility that the disastrous fire in the state capitol at Albany will result in the levy of a direct tax to raise money to make the repairs. The revenues are already below the expenditures, the estimates for this year being $50,950,000, and the maximum revenue to be obtained $38,-000,000. New York has already exhausted every other means for raising taxes, and secures more than any other state from taxes on inheritances, stock sales, mortgages and the like. The Democrats, who are now in control, do not like the responsibility of placing an additional burden, while the Republicans are said to be specially pleased that they are not in power, for this reason.

Commissioner of Accounts Fosdick tells Mayor Gaynor of New York that some inspectors in the bureau of buildings force contractors to pay blackmail or bribes, and that there is a system of "graft" which permits unsafe buildings to be erected in that city. He cites several instances where contractors have received offers from inspectors to "pass" defective work in consideration of bribes for $10 to $500. There has been a general suspicion for some time to this effect, and it is probably the cause of so many faultily constructed buildings in New York.

Of the city appropriations to be made in Boston this year, 31 cents in every dollar will go to the schools, 20 cents towards the extinction of the city debt, 16 cents for public works, including bridges, ferries, sewers and highways; 9 cents to the police, 8 cents for fire protection, 4½ cents for county expenses, 2½ cents for parks, 1½ cents to the poor, 1 cent to hospitals and the health department, and 15½ cents for all other departments.

The commendation heard on every hand of the late Dr. Sanborn and his kindly ministrations to the poor with whom he came in such close contact should cover with confusion those members of the Representative Council who tried to make a change in the office of city physician just because somebody else desired the place. Such attempts do not reflect credit upon representative government.

It begins to look like a decided change of heart in New Hampshire regarding the railroads. For a long time the roads have been credited with controlling the legislature, but now there are evidences that the legislature is thinking of controlling the roads.

The Democratic wave which has been sweeping over Maine received a setback in the city election in Calais. The Republicans not only chose their candidate for mayor, but also carried every one of the seven wards for aldermen.

Two states, Iowa and Colorado, have each but one representative in the United States Senate. Unlike the New York Assembly, the legislatures of these states have not been able to break the deadlocks over the elections.

The Democrats have been waiting 16 years for the opportunity which comes to them today in Washington. It is only a half-loaf but the majority in the House will serve to appease their appetite in a measure.

The Socialists won in two city elections in the West Monday, electing a mayor in Flint, Mich., and a mayor, city treasurer, judge and five of the nine aldermen in Butte, Montana.

The Republicans of the House of Representatives have selected a Mann as their leader, and from all accounts a good one.

There is little elasticity in the present spring.

TREASURE TROVE DISCOVERED IN OLD MANOR HOUSE.

Treasure trove to the value of $1,-250,000 is reported from Jersey, England, where it was uncovered by Athelstan Riley, while he was pulling down the ruins of an old manor house, built in the thirteenth century, with the object of using the stone to enlarge his present manor. The discovery includes ancient urns filled with spade guineas, coined during the reign of King George III, and bearing the British arms on a spade shaped shield. One urn bears the monogram of Emperor Vespasian, the Roman who flourished in the first century.

SUCCESS OF SCHOOL LUNCHEONS

After a month's test of serving a three-cent luncheon to 50 children in a public school in Philadelphia, the experiment has been declared a success. The Home and School League will continue to serve the luncheon until May. The children show an average gain of four pounds each in weight. Whether it was a bit of Hamburger steak or a bowl of bean soup that confronted them; whether it was a dish of prunes or a mound of rice pudding, they toiled faithfully until the plates and bowls were bare. And the inevitable consequences have followed in brightened eyes, heightened spirits and, what is most marvellous of all, angelic behavior during the afternoon session where bedlam was wont to reign.

Democrats Make Clean Sweep in Burrillville Town Election.

Cranston Teachers Ask For Increased Pay—New Wharf Facilities for Providence.

The Democrats made a clean sweep of town offices in Burrillville in Monday's town election, failing only in contests for several of the district positions, and gaining one even there. The principal contest of the day was for first councilman, between Dr. Robert Wilcox, the only Republican member of the old council, and Monroe S. Inman, the strongest member on the Democratic side. This struggle resulted in a victory for Mr. Inman by a plurality of seven votes. The votes for the first council place will be re-counted by the council. In the other contests the Democratic candidates won by wide margins. Dr. Wilcox's candidacy brought out the sharpest work seen in several years in Burrillville. Last year he defeated Thomas Phebe by a margin of 25 votes and the preceding year he defeated John Heatherman, by a close vote.

The Cranston school committee Monday evening received a petition signed by 70 of the 88 grade teachers in the city's public schools, asking for increases in salaries all along the line. When the petition was presented Mayor Edward M. Sullivan, a member of the committee, declared that the school committee had no power to increase salaries, stating that it was a matter up to the council. The petition occasioned considerable discussion, during which one resolution set forth the school committee's recognition of the justice of the claims of the teachers, but regretted that it could do nothing to help them. This resolution fell by the wayside, however. All that was done with the petition was its postponement for further consideration. The teachers in Cranston are at present subject to a maximum scale of salary of $585 per year for those who have been in the city's service five years or more. This amounts to $15 per week for 39 weeks. The teachers' petition asks that a maximum limit of $650 per year be set.

The State Harbor Improvement Commission Monday took a definite step toward the provision of public wharf facilities in Providence harbor, by the institution of condemnation proceedings on a tract of land covering 791 feet along the water front of the west side of the harbor. The tract is on Allen's avenue, running from Public street southerly to a point beyond Bay street. The documents for condemnation were filed with the recorder of deeds, and in the superior court by Attorney General William B. Greenough, acting for the state. This act in motion the machinery of the law for the acquisition by the state of this property, which is deemed the most desirable for the carrying out of the purpose for which the commission was created. The Allen's avenue property consists of two plats, one owned now or formerly by James Tiffany and including 428,727 square feet, and the other owned now or formerly by Glenn L. Aldrich and James Tiffany, having an area of 220,-296 square feet. The harbor frontage available for a state wharf will be 704.13 feet, and the frontage on Allen avenue is 476.85 feet. The site for the proposed state wharf lies at a point about halfway between the centre of the city and the site of the city's proposed 1,300-foot wharf at Field's Point. According to the tax assessors' plats the two parcels of land which are to be acquired under condemnation proceedings are taxed for approximately $23,360.

The first matter to occupy the attention of Congressman Utter on his arrival in Washington was the desire of the citizens of Niantic to have the name of their town changed to Bradford. The change is desired because of frequent confusion with Niantic, Conn., and the name of Bradford has been chosen because of the recent establishment in that place of the Bradford Dye Works, a new institution representing an investment approximating $750,000, which has been financed by capitalists and manufacturers of Bradford, England. Mr. Utter called at the Postoffice Department Monday regarding the desired change, and was assured that the new name would be recognized by the department.

Golden wedding observances of two couples brought many of their relatives from far and near to Providence Sunday and Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wheelwright, having completed 50 years of married life, observed their anniversary Monday at their home, while Sunday Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mitchell, who were married April 2, 1861, had a family reunion at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Charles L. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. Wheelwright's guests were confined chiefly to the members of the family, and tea was served in the presence of their children and grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell's observance was a family affair, attended by 19 of the immediate relatives of the couple.

Building operations at Watch Hill were brought to a standstill Monday, when 225 Italian workmen, members of the Westerly local of the International Hod Carriers' and Laborers' Union, went out on strike for more wages and shorter hours. The contractors were requested to grant a demand of 21 cents an hour for an eight-hour day. At present the pay is 19½ cents an hour for a nine-hour day. When the demands were refused, 225 men quit work, tying up considerable work in the summer colony at Watch Hill. The principal contractors affected are Samuel Nardone and Louis Bartolo, who employ large forces of men for the foundation and construction of work at the resort.

Rev. J. Caleb Justice will preach his first sermon as pastor of the Norwood Free Baptist Church next Sunday, all doubt having been removed by the fact that he was not appointed to a pastorate in the Methodist Conference. Mr. Justice read his acceptance of the call March 26, subject to the action of the Conference. Rev. Mr. Justice began his ministerial career as a supply in the summer of 1902. In 1903 he received an appointment as pastor of the Meechanicsville Methodist Episcopal Church at Meecham, Ill., and was re-appointed the following year. In 1905 he served as pastor of the Iola Church at Iola, Wis.; in the year 1906 he became pastor of the church at Griswold and Voluntown, Conn., and the following year served as pastor at East Blackstone, Mass. Mr. Justice was admitted to the New England Southern Conference in 1908 and was appointed to serve as pastor at the East Blackstone Church. He was appointed pastor of the Hillsgrove Church in April, 1909, serving in that parish until his successor was named Monday.

Thirty-two silver medals awarded by the Rhode Island Society of Mayflower Descendants to writers of prize essays in the grammar school eighth grade of Providence, made the tenth annual meeting of the society Monday a notable event in its history. Reports of the governor, treasurer, secretary and historian were read, showing 95 active members, 13 applicants under consideration and three members lost by death. It was voted to make the public school essays an annual event, and a further motion was carried to establish a standing committee to carry into effect the conditions of the contest.

TOWN OF MIDDLETOWN.

Notice of Annual Town Meeting.

The State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations Newport, sc.
Town Clerk's office, Middletown, March 21, A. D. 1911.

WHEREAS, the first Wednesday of April in each year is the day designated by vote of the Town for the annual election of Town Officers and the transaction of the business required by law of the Town of Middletown, as a municipal corporation in this State,

THEREFORE, the qualified electors of the Town of Middletown, are hereby notified and warned to assemble in Town Meeting at the Town Hall in said Town, on the first Wednesday of April next, A. D. 1911—it being the fifth day of said month of April, 1911—at ten o'clock A. M., for the following-named purposes, to wit:

To elect the necessary Town Officers as by law required and Justices of the Peace for the year ensuing.

To consider and fix the amount or the rate of Town Tax to be levied and assessed on the taxable property of this Town, for the purpose of paying this Town's yearly proportion of the State Tax, for the support of the Public Schools, the maintenance of the Poor, the repair and construction of the highways, and for defraying the general and other lawful charges and expenses of this Town, for the municipal year ensuing, and to appropriate from any money in the Town Treasury for any or all of said purposes, if so determined.

To consider and vote upon the following-named proposition, to wit:
"Shall the sum of Two Thousand Dollars be appropriated from the Town Treasury of Middletown for the municipal year ensuing April, 1911, for the construction of macadamized roads and for the repair of the macadamized roads already built? The work of construction and repair to be done under the direction of the Town Council, and all undertakings involving an expenditure exceeding Eight Hundred Dollars, to be done by contract let to the lowest responsible bidder, by said Council, after due advertisement for proposals to do the work?"

To consider and vote upon the following-named proposition, to wit:
"Shall the sum of Five Hundred Dollars be appropriated from the Town Treasury of Middletown, for the purchase of oil for application to the stone road beds in the Town? Said oil to be purchased and applied, and said appropriation to be expended by and under the direction of the Town Council?"

To consider and vote upon the following-named proposition, to wit:
"Shall the sum of One Thousand Dollars be appropriated from the Town Treasury of Middletown, for acquiring the necessary land and for straightening and improving the highway which connects with the bridge, spanning the creek running into Eastons Beach, on the dividing line of the Town of Middletown and the City of Newport, and for widening, improving and re-constructing said bridge? This appropriation not to be available, unless an appropriation of not less than Two Thousand Dollars for the same purpose, shall be made by the City of Newport?"

To consider and vote upon the following-named proposition, to wit:
"Shall the sum of Thirty Five Hundred Dollars be appropriated from the Town Treasury of Middletown, for acquiring the necessary land for a school building; to be erected near to, or in addition to the school house now located on Third Beach Road, and for constructing, finishing and furnishing said school building? Said land to be acquired and said school building to be erected by a Committee, to be appointed for that purpose?"

To consider and decide whether an additional appropriation shall be made from the Town Treasury of Middletown, for determining and defending the rights of the inhabitants of this Town, in and to the ways leading down to and over Sachuest Neck.

And to consider, transact and do any and all such other prudential business, —which may legally come before said meeting—, for the benefit of this Town of Middletown and the good people thereof.

Witness my hand and the seal (L. S.) of said Town of Middletown, on this twenty-seventh day of March, A. D. 1911.

ALBERT L. CHASE, Town Clerk.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, April 4.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Rain late tonight and Wednesday; rising temperature easterly winds, increasing.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The weather is still clear in most of New England and the eastern Canadian provinces, but rain is falling or has fallen during the past 24 hours over a great portion of the country, extending from Michigan to the Gulf, and eastward to the Virginia coast. On the eastern slope of the Rockies there has been precipitation in the form of snow. Cloudy, unsettled weather also prevails on the Pacific slope. The northeastern ridge of high pressure has drifted slowly eastward; the highest barometer now being about 30.60 inches in northern New England and the lower St. Lawrence valley. The western trough of depression extends from Arkansas through Oklahoma and northern Texas to southern Colorado. In the British northwest there is a slight depression at Prince Albert. The temperature continues below the normal in all of the northern states, but has risen over the Mississippi and Ohio valleys to nearer above the seasonal average. In New York at 8 a. m. it was 38, Washington 34, Jacksonville 70, St. Louis 46, Chicago 36, Denver 32, San Francisco 50 and Portland 38.

DE MARINIS DENIES ALL ACCUSATIONS.

Camorrist on Trial Innocent of Crimes Charged.

Usurer Did Not Receive Ring Taken from Cuoccolo's Hand.

VITERBO, Italy, April 4.—The jury in the Camorra trial listened today to the interrogation and defense of Guiseppe De Marinis, who is charged with having planned the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife, Maria. De Marinis has been frequently arrested in Naples, the accusations against him including robbery, assault, and murder, and he has served brief sentences of imprisonment. The Camorrist was not in good voice today, but he shouted his denials with considerable vehemence and with considerable effect, at least upon the spectators. He denied any part in the assassinations and asserted that he had been involved in the revelations of the informer, Gennaro Abbatemaggio, because of the latter's personal spite. He had discharged Abbatemaggio from his employ, he said.

In forging the chain of evidence against the 36 Camorrists, the carabineers claimed to have found in De Marani's house a postal card addressed to him by Luigi Arena and asking for the death of Cuoccolo, because he had betrayed the writer to the authorities. In telling the story of the murders Abbatemaggio had said that such a post card had been written and that immediately upon its receipt by De Marantis the assassinations were planned. The informer also said that De Marantis took possession of Curccolo's ring, for the purpose of sending it to Arena, who was in prison as evidence that he had been avenged. Subsequently the carabineers claimed to have found the ring at the home of a woman friend of De Marantis.

Replying to questions by President Bianchi, De Marinis said that Arena had never written him. He could not recall ever having met the witness. He denied that he had received the ring supposed to have been taken from the hand of the dead man. As for the Cuoccolos he did not know either of them. At the time of their deaths he was in Naples. De Marinis admitted that he was a usurer, but said he was innocent of the crimes charged. He added:

"Abbatemaggio was for a time my stable boy, receiving from me $15 a month. He proved a very bad young man. He stole a gold chain from my porter, assaulted the porter's sister, and hit my coachman, drawing blood. When I heard of his foul deeds I dismissed him from my employ, saying, 'Tell that ruffian never to come into my presence again; otherwise I will cripple him with a club.' This was the cause of Abbatemaggio's rancor, leading to the present attempt at a terrible revenge."

BIG VOTE ANTICIPATED.

Workers for Both Party Candidates for Mayor of Chicago Busy.

CHICAGO, April 4.—A drizzling rain, when the polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning, did not serve to prevent an unusually large early vote being polled in the municipal election today. Workers for Carter H. Harrison, Democratic candidate, began work as soon as the polling places were opened and an extraordinary effort is being made to get out a large vote. Political forecasters predict that at least 380,000 votes will be cast from a total registration of 423,000.

Charles E. Merriam, Republican candidate for mayor, was aroused at 5:50 this morning by seven buglers and escorted to his polling place by a procession of 50 automobiles.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent fraud. Charges of fraudulent registration, especially in the down-town wards, yesterday, resulted in issuance of special orders by the election boards and the police department to safeguard the polling places and make arrests where suspicions of repeating are aroused. Chief of Police Steward ordered every policeman to report for duty and assigned one policeman to each of the 1,324 precincts.

The election commission last night appointed 200 special officers to be detailed in the down-town wards. Each of the leading candidates, Carter H. Harrison, Democrat, and Charles E. Merriam, Republican, has arranged for watchers in each precinct.

In support of Professor Merriam, Republican candidate, most of the students of the University of Chicago spent the day either at polling places or aiding to bring out a large vote.

BITTER CONTEST CLOSES.

Hottest Mayoralty Nomination Fight in Baltimore Comes to an End.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 4.—A primary election for the nomination of candidates for city offices is in progress here today. The candidates for mayor are J. Barry Mahool, the present incumbent, and James H. Preston, Democrats; E. Clay Timanus and Charles H. Torsch, Republicans. Today's election brought to a close the hottest mayoralty nomination contest on the part of the Democrats in the political history of the city. James H. Preston, whose candidacy was espoused by the regular organization, was opposed by Mayor Mahool, who was supported by both the Democratic and independent newspapers of the city, and the campaign has been marked by extreme bitterness on both sides.

THE TABS-ALL STARS GAME.

There promises to be another good basket ball game when the Tabs line up against the All Stars. This will be the Tabs' first game since their last with the Alsonkins, and they have been practicing hard lately, with the result that they are in the best of condition. The All Star team is composed of some of the best men in the City League, including McGrath, who plays with the Favorites of Fall River and has already played in the Tabs' hall a number of times. Curtis of the Galahads will hold down the pivot position for them, and there is no question about his ability. The Tabs' management is allowing the All Stars the use of their hall, to help their team work. The Tabs will have their regular line-up for this game, as follows:

Byrnes, l. f.,	r. b., Kyle.

FRANCIS C. VAN HORN.

Death of a Former Summer, and More Recently a Permanent, Resident of Newport.

Mr. Francis C. Van Horn died at his residence on Greenough place early this morning, after an illness of about weeks, of heart trouble and pneumonia. He had been a resident of Newport about 15 years, having come here for several years prior to that as a summer visitor. For the past 10 years he had occupied the Porter house on Greenough place.

Mr. Van Horn was born in New Hope, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, a son of Isaac and Adeline Crane Van Horn. He was a grandson of Colonel Richard Moore Crane, who was a captain of the First brigade, First regiment, of the Pennsylvania troops under Colonel Maxwell Kennedy, in the war of 1812; a great-grandson of Captain Joseph Crane, an officer of the Pennsylvania troops in the war of the Revolution, and of Robert Whitehill, a member of the conference which adopted the Declaration of Independence, a Speaker of the Pennsylvania senate and a member of Congress for four terms.

The deceased had retired from business before coming to Newport, and had spent considerable time in traveling. He was widely read and an interesting conversationalist. For a number of years he had been a member of the Clambake Club an dof the Newport Reading Room, where he was well known and generally liked. He joined the Rhode Island Society, Sons of the Revolution, December 12, 1907, and took an active interest in its affairs, being at the time of his death one of the board of managers. Taking an interest in public affairs in Newport, it will be remembered that he inaugurated the movement a few years ago which led to the widening of the aisles and increased exits at the Opera House, improvements tended largely to the increased safety of the theatre and to the ease with which the audiences are able to leave.

In addition to his Newport club relations, Mr. Van Horn was a member of the Union Club of Boston, the Country Club of Brookline and the Holland Society of New York.

He is survived by a widow, who was formerly Miss Harriet J. Simmons; a son, F. Courtlandt Van Horn, and a daughter, the wife of Mr. Edward Sturtevant of St. George's School.

OF A SIMPLE CHARACTER.

Many City Officials and Others Attend the Funeral Service for Dr. John H. Sanborn.

The funeral service for the late City Physician John H. Sanborn was held this afternoon at Emmanuel Church, conducted by Rev. Emery H. Porter, D. D., the rector. The service was of a simple character, following the ritual of the Protestant Episcopal Church. There was a large attendance of friends, including many city officials, members of the medical fraternity, the Grand Army and the Masonic order, although no organizations attended in a body. The City Hall was closed from 2 to 4 o'clock, that the various city officials might attend the service, and as a special mark of respect to a faithful official and friend of all who knew him.

The bearers were selected from those who had been most intimately connected with Dr. Sanborn in the medical profession and in his official work as city physician—Dr. Rufus E. Darrah and Dr. John H. Sweet, Jr., representing the medical profession; John M. Taylor, city treasurer; Ira W. Wilbor, keeper of the City Asylum, and Captain William J. T. Northup of the police department, representing the city officials; and Colonel Frank P. King, keeper of the Newport county jail, the state officials.

Among those present were Drs. Barker, Sherman, Sullivan, Ecroyd, Holloway, Wheatland, Sanford, Cottrell, Jacoby, Stewart, Ramsay, Butler, Keenan, Putman, Baldwin, DeBlois, Easton, and Carroll, B. F. Tanner, Judge Franklin, F. N. Fullerton, C. W. R. Callahan, C. C. Moore, J. W. Sampson, F. P. Sisson, W. H. Westcott, R. S. Gish, J. McLeish, S. J. Buckley, Thomas Lake, W. D. Hazard, W. H. Huntington, Miss Thomas, A. C. Taylor, T. C. Shields, W. S. Vose, A. C. Griffith, Charles Schoeneman, Simeon Hazard, D. L. Scott and E. H. Easton.

About a dozen members of the Grand Army were in attendance and after the service of the church the detail, under Past Commander Charles H. Clarke, held the usual Grand Army service over the dead and put the flag on the coffin.

The body will be taken Wednesday to Portland, Maine, to be laid beside that of his wife, who died a little more than a year ago.

MADERO MAY NOT ATTACK.

Insurrectos Unable to Muster Number in Federal Garrison.

EL PASO, Texas, April 4.—A private telegram was received here today from Chihuahua stating that the citizens there are rather skeptical about the success of the peace pourparlers, and are wondering when Madero will attack the city. A former citizen of the city, who still lives in the state of Chihuahua, stated today that he believed Madero could not attack. He said that the federal garrison in the city and environs numbers 2,700, while the insurrectos could not muster more than 1,500. Despite reports to the contrary, he declared that the insurrecto forces have not been recruited to any material extent in the last two months. Meanwhile the so-called peace negotiations are waiting for word from Francisco I. Madero, Jr., before another move to bring about a cessation of hostilities can be made. A messenger is expected at any time now.

It is reported that Berthold, with a rebel band, is somewhat northeast of Alamo, and it is believed that if he is anywhere near Laguna Salada a collision between his force and one of Colonal Mayot's detachment is certain.

PONIES ARRIVE SAFELY.

Thirty-Five Little Horses Sent Over by English Team for International Polo Match.

Lithe and sleek, the 35 polo ponies with which the Hatlingham team hopes to regain possession of the international challenge cup arrived in New York from London on board the Minnetonka. According to the trainer and grooms who accompanied the ponies, all had stood the passage well. They went at once to Lakewood, N. J., to be put immediately in condition for the use of the English polo team, which will arrive about the middle of the month.

All the little horses received the utmost attention from the thoroughly English grooms in charge. "Ere is as bloomin' a lot of 'orses as ever 'eld a pigskin," remarked one of the wearers of whipcord. The lot looked all he said. Two little thoroughbred mares, Dorothy and Pigeon, loaned to the team by Lord Ashby St. Ledgers, appeared good enough to chase a ball against the fastest field the Americans might turn out. Lord George was another of the game kind, loaned by his grace the Duke of Westminster, while I Spy, loaned by Lord Dalmeny, was of the chunky cob build and seemed an ideal mount for the back's position.

The grooms evinced a pardonable amount of pride in showing the fine ponies which Captain H. Herbert Wilson has purchased and loaned to the team. Captain Wilson has had agents searching for polo ponies for more than a year, and has purchased every one of which he received good report. The selected ponies of the lot he has sent over for the British team. In the number are Mellon, Pigeon II, Darling, Lady Fiz, Prince, Try Again, Waring and New Pony.

Captain J. Hardress Lloyd, of the Hurlingham forces, has sent over Swift, Starlight, Morning Star and Tucan. These ponies all seemed to be likely to show speed and to have been seasoned through many a polo match in India and England.

All the team's playing gear—saddles, bridles, mallets and other equipment—came along with the ponies. There was a great assortment of material, and it was evident that the English challengers intend to make a campaign for the famous trophy that is likely to prove a memorable one.

PROTEST AGAINST LEE STATUE.

Senator Dixon Chosen Department Commander of Grand Army.

PROVIDENCE, April 4.—In his address at the forty-fourth annual encampment of the Rhode Island Department, Grand Army of the Republic, today, Retiring Department Commander Rev. Charles H. Ewer registered a protest against the placing of a statue of General Robert E. Lee in Confederate uniform in the national capitol. "A Confederate uniform as a mark of distinguished services in the capitol of the country," he said, "is an affront gratuitously offered to every Union veteran and ought to be so considered by every loyal citizen."

The retiring commander eulogized General Lee as a great soldier and scholar and suggested that academic robes would have been in strict propriety. "But," he said, "the figure of General Lee in enduring bronze, garbed in a Confederate uniform, will identify him with defeat and will turn into grim sarcasm the utterance now so frequently heard in the South: 'We are glad we were whipped.'"

Retiring Commander Ewer also called attention to the need of additional pension legislation. He reported 80 deaths during the year, including five past commanders.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Department Commander—State Senator Ezra Dixon of Bristol.

Senior Vice Department Commander—Thomas M. Holden of Pawtucket.

Chaplain—Rev. E. S. Gould of Providence.

HANDICAPPED BY REVOLUTION.

Onion Growers Near Laredo, Texas, Short of Many Laborers.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 4.—The Mexican revolution is handicapping the gathering of the Texas onion crop. Growers in the vicinity of Laredo are short several hundred laborers. According to despatches received here at least 200 men, on their way to the onion fields, have been conscripted for service in the Mexican army. One party of 50, a despatch states, was taken from a train last Friday, held until the day following, and then told that they were members of the army. They were supplied with uniforms and arms and sent to join the garrison in the vicinity of Torreon, it is stated.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. Ben Air of New York, W. L. Carmen and John Grant of Boston and George Bailey of Providence are registered at the United States Hotel.

—Rev. William Safford Jones preached a striking sermon at the Channing Memorial Church Sunday morning, Henrik Ibsen's play, "The Pillars of Society" furnishing the theme.

—A. O'D. Taylor has rented, for A. L. Hammett and P. M. Hammett, executors, the unfurnished house and grounds at 70 Church street, at the corner of Division, to Arthur Cottrell, U. S. N., for a term of years.

—Within a week Mr. William H. Langley will begin to demolish his dwelling house on John street, and on the site he will erect two cottages. The house is one of the oldest in the city and has been in the Langley family many years.

—Mrs. Frederick Neilson and her daughter, Mrs. Hallis H. Hunnewell, arrived in New York today from a trip to the West Indies. Mrs. Hunnewell will return to Wellesley, Mass., and Mrs. Neilson will be at the Hotel Plaza in New York for a few weeks.

—Mr. J. M. Paulson of the Independent Ice & Cold Storage Company, who has just returned from the West, stopped at Newport to examine the plant here. Mechanics are busy on the cold storage plant and the work is progressing in a satisfactory manner.

—In erecting one of the large poles on Broadway last week an old gas pipe formerly supplying a street light was located and found to be rusting away. This morning the gas men tore up the pavement and cut off the pipe, which promises to give trouble in the future.

—A recent interesting event in the family of Mrs. William Grosvenor in Providence was the christening of her grandson, Gilbert Maurice Congdon, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Maurice Congdon. Miss Rose P. Grosvenor was godmother and Messrs. William Grosvenor and John H. Congdon, Jr., godfathers.

—The trustees of the Island Cemetery Corporation Monday afternoon re-elected Robert S. Franklin president, William Stevens secretary and treasurer, and Colonel Andrew K. McMahon superintendent. This is the twenty-eighth consecutive year in which Colonel McMahon has been in charge of the cemetery.

—Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sheehan have issued invitations to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Julia L. Sheehan, to Mr. Joseph H. McTrotty of Baltimore, which will take place at St. Mary's Church Tuesday, April 18, the ceremony to be followed by a reception at the residence of the bride's parents on Green street.

—Former Congressman William P. Sheffield and State Senator Isaac H. Clarke of Jamestown are in Washington, to bring about a re-arrangement of the Jamestown-Newport and Jamestown-Wickford mail service by permitting the contracts to be combined. Messrs. Sheffield and Clarke were in conference with the postal authorities Monday.

—The travel of the old soda fountain from the Hall & Lyon store was stopped too quickly in Monday's report. In view of the fact that a new fountain had arrived at the new store and is now being installed, there was no use for the old fountain in the new store. The old one is being shipped back to the makers and a new one will bloom in the new store when it opens.

—As has been said before there is much construction and repair work going on this year, and from present indications more cottage homes will be erected before another winter than before for several years. Tenement property well cared for continues to be in good demand, which shows a healthy condition in Newport real estate, further proof of which are the prices realized for sales.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johansson entertained a large number of friends on their wedding anniversary Monday evening at their home on Oak street, a number coming from Providence, New York and Bristol. Messrs. Frank P. Burke and C. H. Rader made the evening merry by giving some of their favorite recitations and singing, and the Misses Johansson helped entertain the guests. The feature of the table decorations was orange blossoms, direct from Florida.

NEW CONGRESS MARKS ERA.

Democrats Control House for First Time in Sixteen Years.

Much Interest in Opening of Session—Champ Clark Will Make a Good Speaker.

[Washington Correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, April 3.—No special session of Congress has been held in many years which presents so many possibilities as the one now on the boards. Perhaps that is one reason why there is so much interest in the opening. Nearly every session begins like the one preceding it, but this is different. For the first time in 16 years there is a change of parties in the House—the Senate is still under Republican control. No other time, save during and following the Civil war, did one party have such a protracted period of control in the House of Representatives. The change alone would have been enough to make the session interesting, but the further fact that no one knows just what the Democratic party with its grant of power will do adds particular interest to the Congress now assembling.

No one can tell who carries a marshal's baton in his knapsack, said the great Napoleon, or something like it. No one would have ever picked Champ Clark as Speakership material during his first term in Congress. Then he had to fight his way against the controlling element in his party who did not like new and untried men or men who did things in a different way from the way they had been doing them. Champ Clark never changed, but fought his way to the top by sheer persistency and ability. He will be described as picturesque, but he is no more so than the man he succeeds. He will make a good speaker. Any man who has had 16 years' experience in the House and is willing to tackle the job can succeed. Although they have taken a great deal of power away from the Speaker, he still remains a mighty figure in the House.

Most interesting is the swearing in of the membership of the House because it brings forward the large number of the new men who are seen for the first time. Not since the upheavals of 1890 and 1894 have there been such sweeping changes in the House. More than 100 new men take the oath and begin their Congressional careers who never were in Congress before. Among them no doubt there are quite a number who will become famous, and perhaps among them are future Presidents of the United States.

Congress forbids lotteries by law, but every two years there is a lottery in the House. The seats for the term are drawn by chance, and it often happens that the youngest members get the best seats and many of the old members are relegated to the "Cherokee strip," or far back in the hall. There is more real interest in drawing for seats than anything else that happens on the opening day.

The most striking feature of the Senate in the extra session is that there are no leaders, such as we have known in former times. Heretofore there was no question about it; Hale and Aldrich were there and directed affairs. Of course Lodge and Gallinger, the senior Republicans with the exception of the venerable Cullom and Frye, are taking hold to run the Senate on the opening day, putting through the formal resolutions and making the necessary motions to start the machinery. But their actual leadership is questioned. The factions in the Republican party are such as to prevent the establishment of such leadership as heretofore existed.

We have known that there were to be more changes in the Senate than at any time in its recent history, and yet it is surprising to realize just what these changes mean. Of the 29 Senators beginning new terms 16 are new men, the largest percentage of changes in half a century.

More interesting than anything else in connection with the assembling of the Senate is the division of the two parties into factions. We have seen Populists in the Senate with leanings toward one or the other old parties, but never before has there been such a marked line of difference between the factions of the two parties. The Republicans do not make any concealment of their divisions. They recognize that the dividing line between the regulars and progressives is too apparent to hide. The factions can unite for the control of the machinery of the Senate, but not for any party program. The division between the conservative and progressive elements of the Democratic party is not quite so pronounced, but it exists. Between men like Bailey, Simmons, Johnston, Bankhead and Fletcher on one side and Newlands, Stone, Owen, Gore, Davis and Shively on the other there is such a wide gulf that it seems almost impossible for the party to unite.

A "CURE"? FOR BALDNESS

The above expression is one which is used frequently in connection with hair preparations. Just exactly what is meant by it in each instance is a question. Baldness is not a disease and hence, does not permit of a cure. It is a result invariably to be traced to the dandruff germ and if the condition has become chronic, that is, if there is complete atrophy of the hair follicles, a "cure" is absolutely impossible.

Approaching baldness, seen in falling hair, may always be checked and if the hair follicles are not atrophied the hair may be induced again to grow.

This is accomplished by regular applications of Newbro's Herpicide which cleanses the scalp and kills the dandruff germ. The destruction of the germ does away with the accumulations of scarf skin and thus eliminates the most common enemy to beautiful hair.

Soft, glossy, fluffy hair cannot grow on a scalp infested with dandruff any more than a delicate plant can grow on an ash heap. The scalp must be kept clean and free from dandruff. The best remedy for doing this is Newbro's Herpicide which receives the highest endorsements from professional men, the stage and the best people everywhere.

Herpicide is sold and guaranteed in one dollar size bottles by all druggists. Applications obtained at all first-class barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Address The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., enclosing 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet

Fresh Air —in Plenty
Flesh-Producing Food —in Plenty
and SIROLIN

PLENTY of oxygen-filled air, sleep in a well-ventilated room, regular, gentle, lung-expanding exercise, nutritious foods, and—SIROLIN. In few words, that is the advice given to lung and throat sufferers who consult the eminent specialists of Europe. If it were possible to place before the American people the private records of European physicians, they would at once appreciate the importance of this great Swiss remedy in the treatment of both serious and simple lung and throat affections.

It is seldom that a preparation as important as Sirolin is sold direct to the public—but the fact that self-diagnosis is simple in affections of the throat and lungs and Sirolin is absolutely harmless (without a trace of narcotic or habit-forming drug) makes it possible to distribute it direct to the sufferer through his local druggist.

Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections yield quickly to Sirolin—disagreeable symptoms promptly disappear, the appetite improves and these apparently trifling ailments are prevented from developing into serious maladies—Catarrh, Pneumonia, Consumption.

In deep-seated pulmonary diseases the favorable action of Sirolin is no less marked—coughing rapidly decreases, weakening night-sweats disappear, the appetite becomes keen, the weight of the body increases (12 to 15 pounds gain in a short time are often recorded) the increase in tubercle bacilli is checked, the appearance greatly improves, and the patient quickly returns to normal strength. Sirolin as a preventive, Sirolin as a remedy, should be in every home.

Sirolin is now for sale by first-class druggists.

It is recommended and used by physicians, and its well-known reputation has caused many imitations to be placed on the market. Get the Genuine.

DEMOCRATS NOW PUT TO THE TEST.

of the tariff downward in order to give every American citizen an equal chance in the race of life and to pamper none unduly by special favor or privilege, to reduce the cost of living by eradicating the enormities and cruelties of the present tariff bill, and to raise the necessary revenue to support the government. Bills are already far advanced in prepartion looking to the accomplishment of these beneficient ends,

"2—The passage of a resolution submitting to the states for ratification a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by the popular vote. This resolution has already been introduced and will soon be passed by the House. Let us hope that we will send it to the Senate by the unanimous vote of the House.

"3—Such changes in the rules of the House as are necessary for the thorough and intelligent consideration of measures for the public good, several of which changes are accomplished facts. If other changes are deemed wise, they will be promptly made.

"I congratulate the House and the country, and particularly do I congratulate the members of the committee on ways and means, upon the success of the important and far-reaching experiment of selecting committees through the instrumentality of a committee, an experiment touching which dire predictions were made and concerning the operation of which grave doubts were entertained, even by some honest reformers.

"4—Economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened. The literal fulfilment of that promise which so nearly affects the comfort and happiness of millions we have begun—and we began at the proper place—by cutting down the running expenses of the House by more than $188,000 per annum. Economy, like charity, should begin at home. That's where we began. We cannot with straight faces and clear consciences reform expenses elsewhere, unless we reform them here at the fountain head. The Democratic caucus deserves well of the country for taking this long and important step in the direction of economy all along the line.

"The constitution gives the House the practical control of the purse strings of the country and the House should insist, resolutely and firmly, on exercising that control, to the end that the appropriation bills may be reduced to the needs of the government, economically and effectively administered. It is our duty to provide every dollar needed for the proper and economical conduct of the government but is is equally our duty to prevent waste and extravagance in public expenditures, for we should never forget that it is a difficult task for millions of families to live now in decency and comfort. Surely it is the part of wisdom, statesmanship, humanitarianism and patriotism to legislate so as to reduce their burdens to the minimum. The revival of the Holman rule will help along in this matter. No good citizen desires to cripple the government in any legitimate function, but no good citizen desires that the people be loaded down with unnecessary taxes.

"5—The publication of campaign contributions and disbursements before the election. The bill to accomplish that desired reform has been prepared and introduced. It will be speedily passed by the House. The average citizen, whatever his politics, is absolutely honest. He demands honesty and cleanliness in politics, he believes that too much money is spent in election matters; and he proposes to put an end to it. As the representatives of the average man, it is our duty to carry out his patriotic wishes in that regard, to the end that all men desirous of serving the public may have a fair chance in politics and to the end that this mighty republic, the politicat hope of the world, may not be destroyed by corruption in elections.

"6—The admission of both Arizona and New Mexico as states. I violate no confidence in stating that so far as the House is concerned they will be speedily admitted, and they will be admitted together.

"These are a few of the things which we promised. We are not only going to fulfill them, we have already begun the great task. What we have done is only an earnest of what we will do. We this day report progress to the American people. The rest will follow.

"No man is fit to be a lawgiver for a great people who yields to the demands and solicitations of the few having access to his ear, but is forgetful of that vast multitude who may never hear his voice or look into his face.

"I suggest to my fellow-members on both sides of the big aisle—which is the line of demarkation between us as political partisans, but not as American citizens, or American representatives—that he serves his party best who serves his country best.

"I am now ready to take the oath, and ask that it be administered by Mr. Talbott of Maryland."

THE MESSAGE WEDNESDAY.

President Will Deal Only With Canadian Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Taft's first message will be sent to the Sixty-second Congress tomorrow, according to unofficial information at the White House today. The President began the dictation of the message early today, and when the cabinet met at 11 o'clock he laid before it a rough draft of the document. Following the cabinet session the President will take up the message with one of his secretaries, and proposes to complete it.

The message, according to the White House statement, will deal only with reciprocity with Canada. Reference to a permanent tariff commission or to other kindred subjects will be deferred until later, if the present plan is followed. The message will not be long and will follow closely the speeches made by the President on the subject of reciprocity.

A WOMAN ELECTED MAYOR.

Executive to Correct All Infractions of the Laws in Hunnewell, Kan.

HUNNEWELL, Kansas, April 4.—Mrs. Ella Wilson is now mayor of this town. At the election yesterday she and O. M. Akers were tied for the office. At first it was suggested that the two candidates draw lots for the office, but that did not appeal to the male voters. They said that if Mrs. Wilson could race a man to a tie she ought to have the office. Therefore the judges of election declared her elected.

"Now I am going to clean up Hunnewell," she said. She declared in campaign speeches that the town was harboring bootleggers and that the pool halls were being run contrary to law. She proposes to correct these alleged infractions of the statutes.

There were women candidates for the city council and a woman ran for police judge, too, but all of them were defeated.

HOUSE IN CONTROL OF THE DEMOCRATS.

taken up with cheering, both on the floor and in the gallery.

A few minutes later Governor Harmon of Ohio appeared on the floor and the cheering was renewed. When Governor Harmon made his way to Mr. Bryan and the two stood, shaking hands and chatting together, the Democratic uproar was deafening.

Mr. Mann, as the new minority leader, also was greeted with applause. Mr. Mann and Mr. Clark, as the two candidates for the Speakership, had their pictures taken in the Speaker's offices. Mrs. Clark and her daughter and son, comprising the Speaker's family, were with him in his new offices and exchanged greetings with many of the visitors.

Promptly at the hour of 12 o'clock noon Clerk McDowell called the House to order and Rev. H. N. Couden, the blind chaplain, who was retained by the Democrats, offered prayer.

Before ordering the roll-call by states to ascertain the presence of a quorum, Major McDowell made a brief but humorous speech, which called out shouts of laughter. "On the eve of my departure," he said, "I want to thank the members of the past eight Congresses for their uniform kindness and courtesy. During the 16 years that I have been in the service of the House 78 members have died in service and now are silently waiting beyond the river for the supreme committee on committees properly to place them."

The Republicans thought they recognized a "slam" at the Democrats in this. A few of them applauded. Then they began to laugh, and finally they cheered. Major McDowell again thanked the members of past Congresses for their favors and concluded as follows: "And now, for what they are about to do (to me, I thank the members of the Sixty-second Congress in advance and wish them well."

As the roll-call proceeded there were demonstrations for all the well known figures of the House—Mr. Cannon, Mr. Mann, Mr. Payne, Mr. Underwood, and others. When Champ Clark's name was reached the demonstration continued until the clerk called for order.

Representative Champ Clark of Missouri was elected Speaker, polling 217 votes against 131 for James R. Mann of Illinois, 16 for Henry A. Cooper of Wisconsin, and one for George W. Norris of Nebraska. The three last named are Republicans.

NEW SENATORS SWORN IN.

Ceremonies in the Upper Chamber Brief and Formal.

standing the fact that the initial ceremonies of the extra session in the Senate were quite secondary in interest to those of the House, there still was a large attendance in the galleries and the scene was animated. The spectators began to arrive early, and long before the beginning of the session every seat had been taken and every available bit of space was occupied. The only ex-Senator present was the 88-year-old Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia, who appeared as spry as many of the younger men.

The ceremonies were brief and formal, consisting in the main of a brief prayer by the Senate chaplain, Rev. Ulysses Grant Pierce, who asked that as a people we might be "delivered from strife within and warfare without"; the reading of the message calling the special session, and the swearing in of the 30 newly elected Senators.

Of the Senators sworn, 17 were men who never before had occupied seats in the Senate. Twelve were Democrats and five Republicans, the new Democratic members being Bryan of Florida, Chilton of West Virginia, Hitchcock of Nebraska, Johnson of Maine, Kern of Indiana, Lea of Tennessee, Martine of New Jersey, Myers of Montana, O'Gorman of New York, Pomerene of Ohio, Reed of Missouri and Williams of Mississippi. The new Republicans were Lippitt of Rhode Island, McLean of Connecticut, Poindexter of Washington, Townsend of Michigan and Works of California.

The Senators were sworn in squads of four, the colleagues of the newly chosen men escorting them to the Vice President's desk. The oath was administered by Vice President Sherman in clear and distinct tones, which rendered his words audible throughout the densely packed chamber and galleries.

The first quartette comprised Messrs. Bryan, Chilton, Clapp and Clark of Wyoming, and they and all who followed were cordially congratulated by the Vice President. Mr. Chilton took the oath on a Bible given him by his mother.

As soon as the last of the Senators had left the Vice President's dais the roll of the Senate was called. Eighty-six Senators, within five of the entire membership, were found to be present and Senators Gallinger and Bacon were appointed a committee to wait on the President and notify him that the Senate was in session and prepared to do business.

The only feature of the proceedings not on the program was introduced by Senator Bailey of Texas who sought to have the hour of daily meetings of the Senate fixed at 2 p. m., instead of 12 o'clock noon. The suggestion was made in connection with a motion by Senator Brown of Nebraska, fixing the hour of 12 as the time of meeting. Mr. Bailey sought to amend the motion by fixing the time at 2 o'clock, saying that little business could be done before that hour for at least the next six weeks. He ultimately withdrew the amendment, but with a promise to renew it later.

The Senate at 12:55 p. m. took a recess until 2 o'clock, to give the notification committee time to perform its services.

When at 2 o'clock the Senate reconvened there was a call for a quorum, and when 75 Senators responded a message was received from the House announcing the organization of that body.

Postponing until tomorow the report of the committee appointed to wait on the President, Senator Gallinger moved an adjournment for the day. The motion prevailed and immediately afterwards the Republican Senators went into caucus.

WILL QUESTION THE LEGALITY.

Railroad Commission to Report on Increase in Mileage Rates.

BOSTON, April 4.—An order was introduced in the house today requesting the railroad commission to report on whether there has been any increase in mileage passenger rates by the railroads of the state, or any change in the reckoning of mileage, and whether any such increase, in case it has been made, is legal and justifiable. The railroad commission is ordered to report on the questions before May 1. The order was laid over until tomorrow.

There has been considerable agitation during the past week over a report that the mileage on the Boston & Maine Railroad had been recently increased, and the chairman of the railroad commission stated yesterday that the matter was being investigated.

LANDIS WARNS JURORS.

Tells Men to Let No Threats by Black Hand Influence Their Verdict.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The boldness of the Black Hand in threatening United States officials and in attempting to swerve the course of justice in the federal courts was recognized officially yesterday by United States Judge K. M. Landis, in delivering his charge to the jury, which later returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Santana Pizza, indicted for bringing Caterina Bressi, 17 years old, from Italy to Chicago, in violation of the Mann "White Slave" act. Judge Landis sternly warned the jurors to let no threats or efforts toward intimidation influence their verdict.

"During this trial there have been rumors of threats being sent to persons prosecuting this case," declared Judge Landis. "I need not say to you that the man who is influenced the fraction of a hair's breadth, by having a threat, is guilty of corruption as though he had received a money bribe. In arriving at a verdict you must not let the thought of any ulterior consequences which may or may not result from your verdict influence you in the slightest degree."

The charge of Judge Landis was delivered as a result of threats which were reported to have been received by Assistant District Attorney A. R. Hulbert.

RATIFICATIONS EXCHANGED.

Emperor of Japan Gives Luncheon in Honor of Ambassador O'Brien.

TOKIO, April 4.—Ratifications of the American-Japanese commercial treaty were exchanged this afternoon, following a luncheon given at the Palace by Emperor Mutsuhit in honor of American Ambassador O'Brien, Premier Katsura and Foreign Minister Komura were present at the luncheon, preceding which the emperor received Mr. O'Brien in private audience. During the audience His Majesty congratulated the diplomat upon the share which he had in the negotiations which made closer the relations between the two countries and entrusted him with a verbal message for President Taft, in which the American executive is complimented upon the conclusion of a treaty on which Japan places the highest possible value.

After the luncheon the emperor personally handed to Mr. O'Brien an English translation of his formal message to President Taft. The Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty has been signed and will be published tomorrow.

11—The pronounced strength of the Canadian group had its effect on various trans-continental railroad stocks, which advanced briskly. Canadian Pacific increased its gain to 4 points, Northern Pacific, Northwestern Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic preferred, Wisconsin Central, Pacific Mail and Minneapolis Ob opened 1 points down to 55 and rallied 2 on the next transaction to 57. Active stocks were easier at 11 o'clock. Reading reacted a large fraction.

Noon—During the morning session the stock market was quiet. After a rise in the first hour prices declined again and by noon the bulk of the active stocks showed little change. Some issues, which were influenced by causes, fluctuated widely. Expectations that the reciprocity agreement would be ratified was responsible for the buoyancy of the Canadian Group and the improvement of the Hill stocks. National Biscuit touched 110½, an over-night gain of 1½, the buying stimulated by predictions that an extra dividend was in prospect. HANDICAPPED BY REVOLUTION.

Onion Growers Near Laredo, Texas, Short of Many Laborers.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 4.—The Mexican revolution is handicapping the gathering of the Texas onion crop. Growers in the vicinity of Laredo are short several hundred laborers. According to despatches received here at least 200 men, on their way to the onion fields, have been conscripted for service in the Mexican army. One party of 50, a despatch states, was taken from a train last Friday, held until the day following, and then told that they were members of the army. They were supplied with uniforms and arms and sent to join the garrison in the vicinity of Torreon, it is stated.

—The travel of the old soda fountain from the Hall & Lyon store was stopped too quickly in Monday's report in view of the fact that a new fountain had arrived at the new store and is now being installed, there was no use for the old fountain in the new store. The old one is being shipped back to the makers and a new one will bloom in the new store when it opens.

—As has been said before there is much construction and repair work going on this year, and from present indications more cottage homes will be erected before another winter than before for several years. Tenement property well cared for continues to be in good demand, which shows a healthy condition in Newport real estate, further proof of which are the prices realized for sales.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johansson entertained a large number of friends on their wedding anniversary Monday evening at their home on Oak street, a number coming from Providence, New York and Bristol. Messrs. Frank P. Burke and C. B. Roder made the evening merry by giving some of their favorite recitations and singing and the Misses Johansson helped entertain the guests. The feature of the table decorations was orange blossoms, direct from Florida.

NEW CONGRESS MARKS ERA.

Democrats Control House for First Time in Sixteen Years.

Much Interest in Opening of Session—Champ Clark Will Make a Good Speaker.

[Washington Correspondence of The News.]

WASHINGTON, April 3.—No special session of Congress has been held in many years which presents so many possibilities as the one now on the boards. Perhaps that is one reason why there is so much interest in the opening. Nearly every session begins like the one preceding it but this is different. For the first time in 16 years there is a change of parties in the House—the Senate is still under Republican control. No other time, save during and following the Civil war, did one party have such a protracted period of control in the House of Representatives. The change alone would have been enough to make the session interesting, but the further fact that no one knows just what the Democratic party with its grant of power will do adds particular interest to the Congress now assembling.

No one can tell who carries a marshal's baton in his knapsack, said the great Napoleon, or something like it. No one would have ever picked Champ Clark as Speakership material during his first term in Congress. Then he had to fight his way against the controlling element in his party who did not like new and untried men or men who did things in a different way from the way they had been doing them. Champ Clark never changed, but fought his way to the top by sheer persistency and ability. He will be described as picturesque, but he is no more so than the man he succeeds. He will make a good speaker. Any man who has had 16 years' experience in the House and is willing to tackle the job can succeed. Although they have taken a great deal of power away from the Speaker, he still remains a mighty figure in the House.

Most interesting is the swearing in of the membership of the House because it brings forward the large number of the new men who are seen for the first time. Not since the upheavals of 1890 and 1894 have there been such sweeping changes in the House. More than 100 new men take the oath and begin their Congressional careers who never were in Congress before. Among them no doubt there are quite a number who will become famous, and perhaps among them are future Presidents of the United States.

Congress forbids lotteries by law, but every two years there is a lottery in the House. The seats for the term are drawn by chance, and it often happens that the youngest members get the best seats and many of the old members are relegated to the "Cherokee strip," or far back in the hall. There is more real interest in drawing for seats than anything else that happens on the opening day.

The most striking feature of the Senate in the extra session is that there are no leaders, such as we have known in former times. Heretofore there was no question about it: If Hale and Aldrich were there and directed affairs. Of course Lodge and Gallinger, the senior Republicans with the exception of the venerable Cullom and Frye, are taking hold to run the Senate on the opening day, putting through the formal resolutions and making the necessary motions to start the machinery. But their actual leadership is questioned. The factions in the Republican party are such as to prevent the establishment of such leadership as heretofore existed.

We have known that there were to be more changes in the Senate than at any time in its recent history, and yet it is surprising to realize just what these changes mean. Of the 29 Senators beginning new terms 16 are new men, the largest percentage of changes in half a century.

More interesting than anything else in connection with the assembling of the Senate is the division of the two parties into factions. We have seen Populists in the Senate with leanings toward one or the other old parties, but never before has there been such a marked line of difference between the factions of the two parties. The Republicans do not make any concealment of their divisions. They recognize that the dividing line between the regulars and progressives is too apparent to hide. The factions can unite for the control of the machinery of the Senate, but not for any party program. The division between the conservative and progressive elements of the Democratic party is not quite so pronounced, but it exists. Between men like Bailey, Simmons, Johnston, Bankhead and Fletcher on one side and Newlands, Stone, Owen, Gore, Davis and Shively on the other there is such a wide gulf that it seems almost impossible for the party to unite.

CASH OUTPUT OF $1,700,000.

Union Trust Company to Pay Half Its 20 Per Cent Certificates.

PROVIDENCE, April 4.—The Union Trust Company, which suspended for a time during the financial panic of 1907, will May 1 pay half of its outstanding 20 per cent contingent certificates, as the result of a vote taken by the board of directors. This will represent a cash payment of $1,700,000. The company has already paid 80 per cent in cash and gave contingent certificates for the remaining 20 per cent. It is understood 99 per cent having been paid, the remainder will await a favorable opportunity to market the stock of the Norfolk & Southern Railroad, of which the Union Trust Company owns $2,000,000 in par value.

A "CURE"? FOR BALDNESS

The above expression is one which is used frequently in connection with hair preparations. Just exactly what is meant by it in each instance is a question. Baldness is not a disease and hence, does not permit of a cure. It is a result invariably to be traced to the dandruff germ and if the condition has become chronic, that is, if there is complete atrophy of the hair follicles, a "cure" is absolutely impossible.

Approaching baldness, seen in falling hair, may always be checked and if the hair follicles are not atrophied the hair may be induced again to grow.

This is accomplished by regular applications of Newbro's Herpicide which cleanses the scalp and kills the dandruff germ. The destruction of the germ does away with the accumulations of scarf skin and thus eliminates the most common enemy to beautiful hair.

Soft, glossy, fluffy hair cannot grow on a scalp infested with dandruff any more than a delicate plant can grow on an ash heap. The scalp must be kept clean and free from dandruff. The best remedy for doing this is Newbro's Herpicide which receives the highest endorsements from professional men, the stage and the best people everywhere.

Herpicide is sold and guaranteed in one dollar size bottles by all druggists. Applications obtained at all first-class barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Address The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., enclosing 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet

Fresh Air —in Plenty
Flesh-Producing Food —in Plenty
and SIROLIN

PLENTY of oxygen-filled air, sleep in a well-ventilated room, regular, gentle, lung-expanding exercise, nutritious foods, and—SIROLIN. In few words, that is the advice given to lung and throat sufferers who consult the eminent specialists of Europe. If it were possible to place before the American people the private records of European physicians, they would at once appreciate the importance of this great Swiss remedy in the treatment of both serious and simple lung and throat affections.

It is seldom that a preparation as important as Sirolin is sold direct to the public—but the fact that self-diagnosis is simple in affections of the throat and lungs and Sirolin is absolutely harmless (without a trace of narcotic or habit-forming drug) makes it possible to distribute it direct to the sufferer through his local druggist.

Coughs, Colds and Bronchial Affections yield quickly to Sirolin—disagreeable symptoms promptly disappear, the appetite improves and these apparently trifling ailments are prevented from developing into serious maladies—Catarrhs, Pneumonia, Consumption.

In deep-seated pulmonary diseases the favorable action of Sirolin is no less marked—coughing rapidly decreases, weakening night-sweats disappear, the appetite becomes keen, the weight of the body increases (12 to 15 pounds gain in a short time are often recorded) the increase in tubercle bacilli is checked, the appearance greatly improves, and the patient quickly returns to normal strength. Sirolin as a preventive, Sirolin as a remedy, should be in every home.

Sirolin is now for sale by first-class druggists.

DEMOCRATS NOW PUT TO THE TEST.

of the tariff downward in order to give every American citizen an equal chance in the race of life and to pamper none unduly by special favor or privilege, to reduce the cost of living by eradicating the enormities and cruelties of the present tariff bill, and to raise the necessary revenue to support the government. Bills are already far advanced in preparation looking to the accomplishment of these beneficient ends.

"2—The passage of a resolution submitting to the states for ratification a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States Senators by the popular vote. This resolution has already been introduced and will soon be passed by the House. Let us hope that we will send it to the Senate by the unanimous vote of the House.

"3—Such changes in the rules of the House as are necessary for the thorough and intelligent consideration of measures for the public good, several of which changes are accomplished facts. If other changes are deemed wise, they will be promptly made.

"I congratulate the House and the country, and particularly do I congratulate the members of the committee on ways and means, upon the success of the important and far-reaching experiment of selecting committees through the instrumentality of a committee, an experiment touching which dire predictions were made and concerning the operation of which grave doubts were entertained, even by some honest reformers.

"4—Economy in the public expense that labor may be lightly burdened. The literal fulfillment of that promise which so nearly affects the comfort and happiness of millions we have begun—and we began at the proper place—by cutting down the running expenses of the House by more than $188,000 per annum. Economy, like charity, should begin at home. That's where we began. We cannot with straight faces and clear consciences reform expenses elsewhere, unless we reform them here at the fountain head. The Democratic caucus deserves well of the country for taking this long and important step in the direction of economy all along the line.

"The constitution gives the House the practical control of the purse strings of the country and the House should insist, resolutely and firmly, on exercising that control, to the end that the appropriation bills may be reduced to the needs of the government, economically and effectively administered. It is our duty to provide every dollar needed for the proper and economical conduct of the government but is is equally our duty to prevent waste and extravagance in public expenditures, for we should never forget that it is a difficult task for millions of families to live now in decency and comfort. Surely it is the part of wisdom, statesmanship, humanitarianism and patriotism to legislate so as to reduce their burdens to the minimum. The revival of the Holman rule will help along in this matter. No good citizen desires to cripple the government in any legitimate function, but no good citizen desires that the people be loaded down with unnecessary taxes.

"5—The publication of campaign contributions and disbursements before the election. The bill to accomplish that desired reform has been prepared and introduced. It will be speedily passed by the House. The average citizen, whatever his politics, is absolutely honest. He demands honesty and cleanliness in politics, he believes that too much money is spent in election matters; and he proposes to put an end to it. As the representatives of the average man, it is our duty to carry out his patriotic wishes in that regard, to the end that all men desirous of serving the public may have a fair chance in politics and to the end that this mighty republic, the political hope of the world, may not be destroyed by corruption in elections.

"6—The admission of both Arizona and New Mexico as states. I violate no confidence in stating that so far as the House is concerned they will be speedily admitted, and they will be admitted together.

"These are a few of the things which we promised. We are not only going to fulfill them, we have already begun the great task. What we have done is only an earnest of what we will do. We this day report progress to the American people. The rest will follow.

"No man is fit to be a lawgiver for a great people who yields to the demands and solicitations of the few having access to his ear, but is forgetful of that vast multitude who may never hear his voice or look into his face.

"I suggest to my fellow-members on both sides of the big aisle—which is the line of demarkation between us as political partisans, but not as American citizens, or American representatives—that he serves his party best who serves his country best.

"I am now ready to take the oath, and ask that it be administered by Mr. Talbott of Maryland."

THE MESSAGE WEDNESDAY.

President Will Deal Only With Canadian Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Taft's first message will be sent to the Sixty-second Congress tomorrow, according to unofficial information at the White House today. The President began the dictation of the message early today, and when the cabinet met at 11 o'clock he laid before it a rough draft of the document. Following the cabinet session the President will take up the message with one of his secretaries, and proposes to complete it.

The message, according to the White House statement, will deal only with reciprocity with Canada. Reference to a permanent tariff commission or to other kindred subjects will be deferred until later, if the present plan is followed. The message will not be long and will follow closely the speeches made by the President on the subject of reciprocity.

A WOMAN ELECTED MAYOR.

Executive to Correct All Infractions of the Laws in Hunnewell, Kan.

HUNNEWELL, Kansas, April 4.—Mrs. Ella Wilson is now mayor of this town. At the election yesterday she and O. M. Akers were tied for the office. At first it was suggested that the two candidates draw lots for the office, but that did not appeal to the male voters. They said that if Mrs. Wilson could face a man to a tie she ought to have the office. Therefore the judges of election declared her elected.

"Now I am going to clean up Hunnewell," she said. She declared in campaign speeches that the town was harboring bootleggers and that the pool halls were being run contrary to law. She proposes to correct these alleged infractions of the statutes.

There were women candidates for the city council and a woman ran for police judge, too, but all of them were defeated.

HOUSE IN CONTROL OF THE DEMOCRATS.

A few minutes later Governor Harmon of Ohio appeared on the floor and the cheering was renewed. When Governor Harmon made his way to Mr. Bryan and the two stood, shaking hands and chatting together, the Democratic uproar was deafening.

Mr. Mann, as the new minority leader, also was greeted with applause. Mr. Mann and Mr. Clark, as the two candidates for the Speakership, had their pictures taken in the Speaker's offices. Mrs. Clark and her daughter and son, comprising the Speaker's family, were with him in his new offices and exchanged greetings with many of the visitors.

Promptly at the hour of 12 o'clock noon Clerk McDowell called the House to order and Rev. H. N. Couden, the blind chaplain, who was retained by the Democrats, offered prayer.

Before ordering the roll-call by states to ascertain the presence of a quorum, Major McDowell made a brief but humorous speech, which called out shouts of laughter. "On the eve of my departure," he said, "I want to thank the members of the past eight Congresses for their uniform kindness and courtesy. During the 16 years that I have been in the service of the House 78 members have died in service and now are silently waiting beyond the river for the supreme committee on committees properly to place them."

The Republicans thought they recognized a "slam" at the Democrats in this. A few of them applauded. Then they began to laugh, and finally they cheered. Major McDowell again thanked the members of past Congresses for their favors and concluded as follows: "And now, for what they are about to do to me, I thank the members of the Sixty-second Congress in advance and wish them well."

As the roll-call proceeded there were demonstrations for all the well-known figures of the House—Mr. Cannon, Mr. Mann, Mr. Payne, Mr. Underwood, and others. When Champ Clark's name was reached the demonstration continued until the clerk called for order.

Representative Champ Clark of Missouri was elected Speaker, polling 247 votes against 131 for James R. Mann of Illinois, 16 for Henry A. Cooper of Wisconsin, and one for George W. Norris of Nebraska. The three last named are Republicans.

NEW SENATORS SWORN IN.

Ceremonies in the Upper Chamber Brief and Formal.

standing the fact that the initial ceremonies of the extra session in the Senate were quite secondary in interest to those of the House, there still was a large attendance in the galleries and the scene was animated. The spectators began to arrive early, and long before the beginning of the session every seat had been taken and every available bit of space was occupied. The only ex-Senator present was the 88-year-old Henry Gassaway Davis of West Virginia, who appeared as spry as many of the younger men.

The ceremonies were brief and formal, consisting in the main of a brief prayer by the Senate chaplain, Rev. Ulysses Grant Pierce, who asked that as a people we might be "delivered from strife within and warfare without"; the reading of the message calling the special session, and the swearing in of the 30 newly elected Senators.

Of the Senators sworn, 17 were men who never before had occupied seats in the Senate. Twelve were Democrats and five Republicans, the new Democratic members being Bryan of Florida, Chilton of West Virginia, Hitchcock of Nebraska, Johnson of Maine, Kern of Indiana, Lea of Tennessee, Maritime of New Jersey, Myers of Montana, O'Gorman of New York, Pomerene of Ohio, Reed of Missouri and Williams of Mississippi. The new Republicans were Lippitt of Rhode Island, McLean of Connecticut, Poindexter of Washington, Townsend of Michigan and Works of California.

The Senators were sworn in squads of four, the colleagues of the newly chosen men escorting them to the Vice President's desk. The oath was administered by Vice President Sherman in clear and distinct tones, which rendered his words audible throughout the densely packed chamber and galleries.

The first quartette comprised Messrs. Bryan, Chilton, Clapp and Clark of Wyoming, and they and all who followed were cordially congratulated by the Vice President. Mr. Chilton took the oath on a Bible given him by his mother.

As soon as the last of the Senators had left the Vice President's dais the roll of the Senate was called. Eighty-six Senators, within five of the entire membership, were found to be present and Senators Gallinger and Bacon were appointed a committee to wait on the President and notify him that the Senate was in session and prepared to do business.

The only feature of the proceedings not on the program was introduced by Senator Bailey of Texas who sought to have the hour of daily meetings of the Senate fixed at 2 p. m., instead of 12 o'clock noon. The suggestion was made in connection with a motion by Senator Brown of Nebraska, fixing the hour of 12 as the time of meeting. Mr. Bailey sought to amend the motion by fixing the time at 2 o'clock, saying that little business could be done before that hour for at least the next six weeks. He ultimately withdrew the amendment, but with a promise to renew it later.

The Senate at 12:55 p. m. took a recess until 2 o'clock, to give the notification committee time to perform its services.

When at 2 o'clock the Senate reconvened there was a call for a quorum, and when 75 Senators responded a message was received from the House announcing the organization of that body.

Postponing until tomorrow the report of the committee appointed to wait on the President, Senator Gallinger moved an adjournment for the day. The motion prevailed and immediately afterwards the Republican Senators went into caucus.

WILL QUESTION THE LEGALITY.

Railroad Commission to Report on Increase in Mileage Rates.

BOSTON, April 4.—An order was introduced in the house today requesting the railroad commission to report on whether there has been any increase in mileage passenger rates by the railroads of the state, or any change in the reckoning of mileage, and whether any such increase, in case it has been made, is legal and justifiable. The railroad commission is ordered to report on the questions before May 1. The order was laid over until tomorrow.

There has been considerable agitation during the past week over a report that the mileage on the Boston & Maine Railroad had been recently increased, and the chairman of the railroad commission stated yesterday that the matter was being investigated.

LANDIS WARNS JURORS.

Tells Men to Let No Threats by Black Hand Influence Their Verdict.

CHICAGO, April 4.—The boldness of the Black Hand in threatening United States officials and in attempting to swerve the course of justice in the federal courts was recognized officially yesterday by United States Judge K. M. Landis. In delivering his charge to the jury, which later returned a verdict of guilty against Mrs. Santana Pizza, indicted for bringing Caterina Bressi, 17 years old, from Italy to Chicago, in violation of the Mann "White Slave" act, Judge Landis sternly warned the jurors to let no threats or efforts toward intimidation influence their verdict.

"During this trial there have been rumors of threats being sent to persons prosecuting this case," declared Judge Landis. "I need not say to you that the man who is influenced the fraction of a hair's breadth, by having a threat, is guilty of corruption as though he had received a money bribe. In arriving at a verdict you must not let the thought of any ulterior consequences which may or may not result from your verdict influence you in the slightest degree."

The charge of Judge Landis was delivered as a result of threats which were reported to have been received by Assistant District Attorney A. R. Hulbert.

RATIFICATIONS EXCHANGED.

Emperor of Japan Gives Luncheon in Honor of Ambassador O'Brien.

TOKIO, April 4.—Ratifications of the American-Japanese commercial treaty were exchanged this afternoon, following a luncheon given at the Palace by Emperor Mutsuhito in honor of American Ambassador O'Brien. Premier Katsura and Foreign Minister Komura were present at the luncheon, preceding which the emperor received Mr. O'Brien in private audience. During the audience His Majesty congratulated the diplomat upon the share which he had in the negotiations which made closer the relations between the two countries and entrusted him with a verbal message for President Taft, in which the American executive is complimented upon the conclusion of a treaty on which Japan places the highest possible value.

After the luncheon the emperor personally handed to Mr. O'Brien an English translation of his formal message to President Taft. The Anglo-Japanese commercial treaty has been signed and will be published tomorrow.

11—The pronounced strength of the Canadian group had its effect on various trans-continental railroad stocks, which advanced briskly. Canadian Pacific increased its gain to 4 points, Northern Pacific, Northwestern Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic preferred, Wisconsin Central, Pacific Mail and Minneapolis Oil opened 1 points down to 55 and rallied 2 on the next transaction to 57. Active stocks were easier at 11 o'clock, Reading reacted a large fraction.

Noon—During the morning session the stock market was quiet. After a rise in the first hour prices declined again and by noon the bulk of the active stocks showed little change. Some issues, which were influenced by causes, fluctuated widely. Expectations that the reciprocity agreement would be ratified was responsible for the buoyancy of the Canadian Group and the improvement of the Hill stocks. National Biscuit touched 140½, an over-night gain of 4½, the buying stimulated by predictions that an extra dividend was in prospect. A BATTLE ROYAL.

High Scores Prevail in Match Between All Stars and Newports in Bowling Tournament.

The All Stars and Newports met Monday evening for the last time in the City Bowling League tournament, and it proved to be a battle royal. With only two strings separating the teams in the totals for the tournament, a straight victory for the Newports would have put them ahead, while the All Stars needed to win only one string to retain their lead. The Newports rolled well, making 501, 501 and 499, a total of 1501, but the All Stars did better, making strings of 518 and 516, and won the match two out of three strings. The All Stars have now won 25 and the Newports 32 strings. Each team is to roll one match each with the Rovers and Portsmouths in the next two weeks and the chances favor the All Stars as winners of the tournament.

High scores were the order of the match, eight of the 10 rollers scoring better than 100, and three on each team better than 300 in three strings. Vinti was in great form and was easily the high roller of the evening. He made singles of 117, 107 and 129, and a total for three strings of 353, equaling the tournament record in singles and making a new record in three-string totals. Ruggeri made a single of 126 and a total of 301, Committee singles and a total of 311, Vieira singles of 102 and 112 and a total of 307, Minue singles of 101 and 105 and a total of 302, Martin singles of 101 and 100, Christian a single of 109 and a total of 301, and Bric a single of 102. The individual and team scores were as follows:

All Stars.
Vinti,	117	107	129	353
Halpin,	94	85	90	269
Ruggeri,	126	88	90	304
Vieira,	93	102	112	307
Sheehan,	88	91	95	274
	518	473	516	1507
Newports.
Martin,	101	98	100	299
Bric,	102	89	97	288
Minue,	96	101	105	302
Christian,	109	99	93	301
Committe,	93	114	104	311
	501	501	499	1501

The standing of the teams in the league is as follows:

	Won	Lost
All Stars,	35	19
Newports,	32	22
Rovers,	26	22
Portsmouths,	5	39

FROM ANOTHER CONFERENCE.

New Pastor of Middletown M. E. Church Expected to Come from Vermont or New Hampshire.

The vacancy in the pastorate of the Middletown Methodist Episcopal Church left by the transfer of Rev. C. C. Delamater to West Abington, Mass., it is understood will be filled by the transfer into the Conference by a clergyman from another state. Two men are under consideration, now members respectively of the Vermont and New Hampshire Conferences, and one or the other of these will doubtless be appointed to the Middletown Church, which in the list as announced was left "to be supplied." Both are considered strong men, well adapted for the church here, and the selection will depend upon the arrangements which can be made when these Conferences make up their appointments. The decision is expected within a few days.

TIVERTON.

New Grange Organized and Twenty-Four Members Receive Obligation from County Deputy.

A new grange was organized Saturday evening in Waitridge Hall with 24 charter members. The meeting was opened by the chairman, A. Frank Maker, county deputy, who after a few words of greeting introduced the state deputy, Richard M. Bowen of Providence, who spoke interestingly on Grange work, its advantages, what it has accomplished, and what it hopes to accomplish. Joseph A. Peckham of Middletown, master of Aquidneck Grange, spoke on the social as well as the educational features of the grange, the latter enabling the farmer to become familiar with the economics of the day.

Twenty-four members received the obligation, 11 of the charter members being absent, from Deputy A. F. Maker, who then explained the four degrees of the order. The grange then elected officers as follows: Master, Charles Melroy; overseer, Henry Clay Osborn, jr.; lecturer, Walter H. Pierce. It was deemed advisable to postpone the election of the other officers until the next meeting, when other charter members will be present.

Those present included visitors from Aquidneck, Portsmouth and Nonquit Granges. The new grange will be known as Pocasset Grange. The charter will be open until the next meeting.

CROWDS AT THE COLONIAL.

The Colonial Theatre seems to be in need of greater seating capacity, since for several nights there has been a crush of people waiting for others to come out that they might go in. Monday showed a change in the orchestra and an improvement in the showing of the pictures, as well as a new bill. The "Broadway Boys and Girls," composed of five young men, one of whom is especially expert on his feet, and four girls do some singing and dancing in many changes of costume, in a fashion which appeals to popular ideas. The Bon Air Trio of acrobatic pantomimists bring many a laugh, while one of the men is able to accomplish seemingly impossible stunts. Eddie Boyer has a polite way of presenting his verse, and in the little recitation which he has appropriated from a famed actor of some other year he appeals strongly to his audiences.

FOR DR. WILLIAM BURDICK.

Complimentary Dinner and Presentation Upon Leaving Philadelphia for Baltimore.

Dr. William Burdick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Burdick and a former physical director of the Newport Young Men's Christian Association, who it to leave Philadelphia April 15 to become general secretary and associate director of the Public League playgrounds and athletic work in Baltimore, was recently given a complimentary dinner at the Central Branch Y. M. C. A. Building in Philadelphia, by about 200 members of the Association. Speeches were made by several prominent workers, all of whom paid a high tribute to Dr. Burdick, wishing good luck in his new position, while regretting his departure.

A feature of the testimonial was the presentation to Dr. Burdick of a solid gold, full-jewelled chronometer Swiss movement timepiece and split second stop watch, suitably engraved. In one newspaper report of the presentation it is said: "The gift was a great surprise to the recipient, but although visibly affected he was equal to the emergency and replied in a manner which pleased his many friends and emphasized his sterling character."

COULDN'T TALK FOR ONCE.

Presentation to P. F. McKeown Such a Surprise That He Could Only Say "Thank You."

There was an oyster stew and a surprise presentation at the Sevens' house Tuesday evening. To show their appreciation of the work done by Mr. P. F. McKeown in connection with the recent snooker tournament, the players and the spectators procured a handsome Knights of Columbus ring, which they arranged to present to him at the time of the stew, which had been arranged by Bob Welch, proviLaccy, caterer. The oyster stew was as usual a complete success, and every one was there. This was the time of the players, and they were all on hand. Each brought a good appetite and the way the chowder disappeared made Caterer Lacey feel proud.

Then Toastmaster James Quinn called the crowd together and it was expected that the usual songs and speeches would be in order. So they were, but there was something else, and Mr. Lacey, for the entire party, and in a few well chosen words, presented the ring, suitably engraven, to Mr. McKeown. No one will believe it, but every one present vouches for the fact, that "Puddy" was taken so completely by surprise that he could only say "Thank you"—but that was enough. The presentation was not arranged to secure a speech from him; they can have that any time, except when there is a presentation. It was a pleasant occasion, and all were well pleased. Even if the speech was missing, every one knew how the recipient felt.

NEWPORT GUM FACTORY.

Common Sense Company Stockholders to Exchange Shares in the Re-Organization.

Work is progressing favorably on the re-organization of the affairs of the company which is to operate the gum factory. The new corporation will be known as the Newport Gum Company and a majority of the local stockholders have agreed to accept stock in the Common Sense company. stock in the Common Sense company New York interests which have been identified with the manufacture of chiclets and their successful placing on the market have become interested in the new company and are pleased with the structure and equipment on Third street, which is now ready to be put into service.

THE NEW CITY MANUAL.

The Board of Aldermen, at the finance meeting Monday evening, besides auditing the monthly bills accepted the new City Manuals for 1911, which had been delivered by The Milne Printery. The new Manual is a little thinner than that of last year, though some of the type used is a little larger and therefore more legible to older eyes. Mayor Boyle's suggestion of having the index in the first part has been adopted in its make-up. It has all the features of last year's manual, but the appropriations ordinance is shorter and the banks for special committees are fewer, the result of experience last year. The Manuals were prepared by City Clerk Fullerton and will be ready to deliver to members of the Council and city officers when they apply.

In addition, the city clerk distributed the voting lists for the aldermen to prepare the lists for the jurors for next year, the jury year beginning July 1.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Deeds have been filed for record at the city clerk's office from Evelyn Frances Hunt of Holmeswood Lodge, Dorking, England, Herbert L. Hunt and Winifred Frances Hunt, to Charles P. Howland, conveying their interest in the Richard M. Hunt estate, comprising three pieces of property in New York, one in Detroit and the R. M. Hunt estate on Bellevue avenue and Church street in this city. The latter includes six separate parcels, all now embraced in the estate. The deed is probably in settlement of the Hunt estate.

Michael Kennedy has sold to Stephen A. Sheehan 4 and 12 of the Joseph L. Bush estate on West Broadway, bounded north, 40 feet, on other land of grantee and a way; east, 84 feet, by land of grantee and lot 5; south, 40 feet, on West Broadway, and west, 89 feet, by lot 11.

DANISH BROTHERHOOD TO VISIT NEWPORT.

The Danish Brotherhood Lodge of Providence has planned to come to Newport on its annual outing July 4. It was at first intended to invite all the New England lodges of the order and to hold a Danish "folkefest" here, the same as those held from time to time in the West. This plan was abandoned, however, owing to the inability of the committee to secure adequate transportation, but if the same difficulty does not arise the "folkefest" is to be carried into effect in Newport next year.

TWO TICKETS IN FIELD.

Opposition for Members of Town Council and Other Officers.

Middletown to Hold Its Annual Town Meeting and Election Wednesday.

Middletown will hold its annual election of town officers tomorrow. For the same time is set the annual financial meeting, when several important matters will come up for the consideration of the taxpayers. In view of the fact that Middletown has the "secret" ballot, for the second year, it seems likely that the financial business will go over to Saturday night, or some other day agreeable to the voters. This is what was done last year, the entire time of the regular day being occupied with the balloting. This lies with the voters, but the impression prevails that they will probably do as they did last year and have the financial meeting on a separate day.

The names which appear on the official ballot are given below. The Republican nominations come in the first column, under the sign of the eagle, and one cross made in the circle under the eagle will vote the entire straight ticket. The Citizens' Association ticket appears in the second column and one cross in the circle above the title will vote that entire ticket. To vote a split ticket, it will be necessary to mark a cross in the square following the name and address of the candidate. Where there are numbers with the names, as in the case of the town council and the justices of the peace, one should not mark two crosses in the same horizontal line, since that would be to vote for two candidates for one office, which make no vote for that office.

There is opposition for moderator, but Town Clerk Albert L. Chase is unopposed, his name appearing on both tickets. There is also opposition for the town council. The Citizens' nominations are the present incumbents with the exception of William R. Hunter, who is not running and whose places is taken by Isaac S. Hazard. The candidates for overseers of the poor are the same as for town council, except that they are not numbered. For justices of the peace there seem to be four candidates, but as a matter of fact No. 1, Elisha C. Peckham, is the same on both, though he is given two addresses.

Town Treasurer Ward has no opposition. Town Sergeant Fillmore Coggeshall, jr., is on the Citizens' ticket and has opposition. In fact, it may be said in a general way that the two tickets are the same as last year, though there are a few exceptions. The Republican ticket has two new candidates for assessors of taxes.

One candidate for fence viewer is not a candidate, William J. C. Chase of West Main road having died since the nominations were made. He was on both tickets.

The tickets, arranged as they are on the official ballot, are as follows:

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The funeral service for the late William James Coggeshall Chase was held Monday afternoon at his former residence on the West Main road, conducted by Rev. F. W. Goodman according to the Protestant Episcopal ritual, and of a simple nature. The interment was in the family burial lot just back of the house. The bearers were George C. Coggeshall, William Coggeshall, Joseph Coggeshall and Marshall Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Clarence Peckham and family, who have been spending the winter in the South, arrived Monday from Eustis, Fla. They expect to remain in Newport during the month of April.

The schools will not be closed on election day.

The April open date of the Paradise Club will be devoted to a social conducted by Mrs. John Nicholson, assisted by Mrs. W. Clarence Peckham.

Mr. Clairmont Grinnell, who has been in the South since early in February, has returned from Deland, Fla.

LAST LECTURE ON "ISRAEL."

Dr. Brown's Talks on the Old Testament Have Been Scholarly and Interesting.

The tenth and last lecture in the Teachers' Training course on "Israel" was given Monday evening by Rev. John R. Brown, Ph. D., of Providence, lessons XIX and XX being taken up. Before the lecture Dr. Brown spoke of the examination to be held April 24, for which will be given a certificate from the Rhode Island Sunday School Association. He also spoke of the pleasure he himself had derived from the course in Newport.

"The Hebrews and the Foreigners" and "The Ideal Commonwealths," were the topics discussed in lesson XIX—"The Influence of Israel," the thought of influence passed through a five-fold evolution, the Hebrew belief in the kingdom being successively an agricultural state, a centralized monarchy, a sacramental nation, and ecclesiastical state and a world empire.

The topics in lesson XX, "The Ideals of Israel," were "The Messianic Prophecy," "The Forces of the New Order" and the Kingdom of God." Messianic prophecy has in view two distinct objects—the regeneration and the completion of mankind and the bringing in of the purpose and Kingdom of God. The forces of the new order are Jehovah and the Messiah. The results of the kingdom of God will be seen in four distinct spheres—in the nation, in nature, in man and in society.

Dr. Brown's lectures have been scholarly and interesting and have shown the Old Testament in a new light.

THAMES STREET IMPROVEMENT NOTES.

The motor for the operation of the elevators of the Downing Building arrived Monday and was taken through the hole in the sidewalk to the cellar, whence it will be placed in its permanent location. The missing parts of the elevator cage have also been received, only a portion having arrived on the first shipment. Conditions are now right for the elevator men to go ahead with their work, and this will permit clearing up the exterior and interior as well.

During Monday evening there was a sign of activity at the Lappin Store. A trestle and block and falls were erected in the entranceway and the hatch was uncovered, while iron forms were being lowered below. Some time since the heating apparatus gave out. New apparatus was sent here, but proved to be of dimensions too great to be taken in, and this was the second attempt to arrange for heating the store other than by stoves. The apparatus had to be taken to pieces and sent below in sections.

The Hall & Lyon store is filled with fixtures, while the painters are trying to complete their portion of the work; the Sherman store had the leaded glass settings to its window changes placed Monday, and at the new Newport Dry Goods Company's Store the exterior is receiving finishing touches from the painters and things are ready for the fixtures within.

THE FISHERMEN BUSY.

A Few Catches of Herring and Cod, and the Boats Either Going Overboard or Making Ready.

The best news the fishermen have heard lately came from Tiverton Monday. It was a report of two catches of herring, one of 400 and one of 300 fish. It was time they were here, if only the weather were fit, but with this weather they are early.

The cod fishermen are about at the end of their string. Some catches were made Monday, the Wood & Mack having 800 pounds, the Alice 600, the Catspaw 400 and the T. B. Congdon 500. The bait catchers say the season is about over, though the fishermen expect, or hope to find some haddock soon.

C. A. Easterbrooks has his men at work making gear ready for the trapping season.

At Williams & Manchester's yard two fishing boats, the Oriole and Little Rhody, are ready to go overboard Wednesday, when Captain Monson's sloop Alice will be hauled out. They are not the first to go, for catboat Lucy, C. L. Tallman's launch and Captain John Heath's packet have already been taken to the water. The Lucy has been fitted with an 8-horse-power Bridgeport motor and has been sold by Walter Chase to W. P. Macomber of Portsmouth, who will use her for pleasure. The Lucy is a good, able boat and with a motor can be used anywhere that is fit for a small boat.

COLONEL KING'S RECORD.

Makes 122 Out of Possible 125, Scoring Thirteen Bull's-eyes, on the Artillery Range.

A record for fine shooting which it is believed has not been equalled by any other member of the company was established by Colonel Frank P. King on the Newport Artillery range Monday evening, while shooting at a target reduced to 75 yards. His score was 122 out of a possible 125, this being considered exceptionally good work, and including 13 bull's-eyes. Ordinarily when a man makes 110 out of a possible 125 he is considered a very good shot. Colonel King, however, has been on the rifle team ever since he was a member of the company, and is looked upon as one of its leading marksmen.
